

Logic Probe Troubleshooting

A simulated logic probe is available in MacBreadboard. To use it, simply press and hold down the mouse button during a simulation. Now, drag the mouse around and the probe will change to reflect the present state of the socket which it is over.