

Are you looking for a place to publish your views and writing?

OneNet World is seeking writers for this electronic publishing adventure! We want to include diverse opinions and new writers in upcoming editions. In addition, all sorts of editorial writing opportunities begin with the Spring 1994 issue. We plan to expand our content and focus to contain articles, opinions, debate, experience, fiction, poetry, drama, and interviews as we seek new ideas and ways OneNet World will be a significant part of the OneNet Member Network. We particularly need reporters throughout the network in distant locations who can send us news of their members' activities and achievements.

Among our current job openings we want to point out our need for 1) someone to assist in editing sections of the magazine; 2) keep up-to-date on telecommunication issues like privacy and free speech; 3) be the literary editor; 4) manage the reporting from the many BBSes across the world; 5) manage a section on opinion, prediction, insight. 6) to supervise a cooking/recipe contest; 7) collate a OneNet Book of Records.

Finally, if you have ideas you think would fit into our goal of "connecting communities," or if you are interested in being a part of this new OneNet World, send us your thoughts. To volunteer ideas, writing, and work, send a message with a brief description of what you propose to Frank Ratliff, here on The OneNet Member Network, OneNet World Conference. You can also reach him on AOL: send to "FrankRat." Through the Internet write to frankrat@aol.com or write to him at OneNet World, 4546 El Camino Real #127, Los Altos, CA 94022-1041, USA.
