

os Ego-Boosters

You are setting a high standard for electronic zines! Keep up the good work. Also, it is nice to see that your subject matter is not restricted to topics that would be, stereotypically, of interest only to net junkies.

This is great -- I really enjoyed the editorial content, the style, and the inline art (the Gallery show and interview). KEEP IT UP. This is the future of on-line journalism.

Thanks guys. We love encouragement! Look for some great improvements in the months to come...

A True Teletimes Fan

Last month, Martin Janzen became the first reader to donate money to Teletimes. We'd like to thank him publicly and let everyone know that donations are being saved up to be reinvested into the magazine (ie: eventually paying contributors, photo contest prizes...) THANKS MARTIN!!! (Donation information is provided in the Teletimes Staff/Info section.)

For WWW readers it'd be nice to get an e-mail message saying that the new issue is available, without getting all 1600+ lines of the email version...

Good suggestion. I've now created a mailing list for WWW readers. If you are reading this on the Web and would like to get notices of new issues, mail me at editor@teletimes.com and I'll put you on the list.
