General AVI file information

The following chart gives information regarding each animation in Morphology 101. The time in seconds is approximate and was clocked on a 486/66. Larger animations will play slower on slower machines. Animations located in the /fullscr directory are for those users who have the hardware appropriate for playback of those files. The contents of the \fullscr directory will not necessarily fill the screen upon playback, but will require appropriate hardware for proper playback. Of course anyone can view these animations, but be advised of performance problems on slower machines.
