MoreSetup

_{by} NEVERnever Software 1992.

What?

MoreSetup is a standalone setup program for App*More*. It is an easy way to edit the App*More*.ini file which contains all the settings for different instances of App*More*. You can launch MoreSetup from App*More*. In that case the SectionName used by that instance of App*More* is given to MoreSetup, so it startup with the settings of that Section. If MoreSetup is started normally a dialog box is displayed which asks for a SectionName.

Functions?

(Between brackets are the discussed lines in AppMore.ini listed)

MoreSetup is very similar to AppSetup. The most of the functions are the same, except for those which handle the different SectionName settings. Only those different functions are described here, see AppSetup.wri for information on the other functions.

Current

This static text line displays the SectionName that was currently choosen.

Sections

In this listbox you can choose a new current SectionName from a list of existing SectionNames.

New

With this editwindow you can type the name of a new SectionName.

Delete

With this button the current selection of the Sections Listbox is deleted as SectionName.

Add

With this button the current name in the New editwindow is added as a SectionName to the Sections listbox.

Onelaunch (Onelaunch=)

This checkbox in the system dialog window specifies if AppMore should kill itself after one launch of a program.

Note:

When MoreSetup is launched without a SectionName as parameter, the sections dialog window will come up asking to choose a SectionName. If this is cancelled, MoreSetup will use <none> as SectionName, which is the default SectionName, and which settings will not be saved. When setting up for the first time, a new SectionName should first be inserted using the New editwindow and the Add button.

Ware?

This Software is UserWare, no registration, no nothing, just a program to increase the joy of using Windows.
