MINUTES OF THE PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, January 2, 1974

The meeting was called to order by Vice President Jeanne Bornefeld. Three guests were present: Elizabeth C. Kelly, Lavelle Hughes, and Donald Welch.

The outgoing Treasurer, Mr. John Dennison, reported a balance of $682.96 in the savings account, $103.84 in the checking account, and $1.80 in cash. He also stated that there would be a breakdown of committee expenditures in the next issue of the BULLETIN.

President Donald Barnes took over chairmanship of the meeting having been delayed due to traffic.

The Publications Committee Chairman, Mrs. Kay Mayhew, reported that 227 copies of "The New Hampshire Genealogical Research Guide" have been sold to date. She also announced for Query Editor, Fred Bevenour, that he needs more queries for the BULLETIN. Mrs. Mayhew also announced the arrival of three books from Brother David Richardson, a subscription member from Crosier Seminary in Onamia, Minnesota.

The Records Committee Chairman, Mr. Laird Towle, reported that Mrs. Wells has abstracted the entire first book of Prince George's County deeds. He felt that other Society members should make a concerted effort to abstract Prince George's County information. He asked for members to serve on the committee.

The Library Committee Chairman, Mrs. Jane Wardrip, reported that she had received a booklet entitled "Genealogies and Family Histories" from Xerox-University Microfilms. This is a catalog of microfilm publications available from University Microfilms.

New Business

President Barnes reminded the Society that a vote was needed on the By-Law revision (printed in the Nov. BULLETIN, p.106) of Article IX, Section 1, which would add a new Membership Committee to the list of present Standing Committees. Mr. Towle moved that we adopt the By-Law revision; it was carried unanimously.

Four new members were elected to membership: Lavelle Hughes, Elizabeth C. Kelly, Ellen J. H. Paul, and Donald Welch.

The Program Committee Chairman, Mr. Freeman Morgan, reported that Mr. Milton Rubincam, a member, would give the program in February on Pitfalls Encountered in Genealogy.

Announcements

Mrs. Doris A. Perry gave a "Show and Tell" talk on how to go about changing a birth certificate to indicate the person's "right" name....Mrs. Gloria Gatewood announced that there had appeared in the December issue of The Genealogical Helper an article on the possibility of closing all censuses. It was suggested that members write their congressmen giving their support to keep the censuses open. President Barnes asked the Secretary to check into the situation and report at the next meeting....Mr. Jess Brown announced that the Local History and Genealogy Room at the Library of Congress had moved across the hall to an alcove off the Science Reading Room (same floor as before)....Mr. Barnes announced that there would be a Council meeting at his home Thursday, January 10 at 8 pm....A plaque was presented to Mrs. Shirley Wilcox, outgoing President, in appreciation of her leadership for the past year....Mr. Barnes also asked that Committee Survey Forms be filled out and returned to him....Mrs. Doris Perry announced that the cookie sign up sheet was available for volunteers to bring cookies, either store bought or homemade, to future meetings and that she would contact them the Friday before to remind them.

Mr. Laird Towle then presented the program "Evaluation of Genealogical Evidence and Genealogical Record-Keeping", the second half of a talk he had given in October on "Starting to Climb Your Family Tree".

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

OUR MEMBERS - Vivian (Deatherage) Wheeler

Vivian was born 1916 in Galesburg IL to Raleigh E. and Florence DeEtta (Guy) Deatherage. She married William W. Wheeler and they have one son, Fredric. She worked for eight years in the office of the Galesburg Cottage Hospital. She is a member of the DAR.

Surnames of special interest are: WHEELER (MD, WV, KY, IL), FENDALL (MD), NOBLE (MD), DEATHERAGE and EASLEY (VA, NC, IN, IL), GUY (OH, IL, KS), REYNOLDS (TX, IL, KY, TN), WILBURN (NC), SHEPARD-SHEPHERD (NC, OH), and RICH (TN, KY).

GENEALOGICAL NOTE TAKING AND RECORD KEEPING by Dr. Laird C. Towle

Everyone beginning in genealogy is immediately faced with the problems of how to take suitable notes and how to store or file them. Each of us tends to develop our own system of record keeping which we vary and modify as we gain experience or as our needs change. Note taking and record keeping are basic to genealogical research. It is wise to consider our ultimate objectives before selecting the means of achieving them. The genealogist's objective is usually to assemble biographical sketches of individuals or families that will provide an accurate and interesting account of their lives and characters. In addition, if our work is to be accepted and believed, it must be suitably documented with references to the original sources of information.

The data sources used by genealogists were not originally prepared for their use but rather to serve some other rather specific social purposes. Hence it is usually necessary for the genealogist to collect bits and pieces of data from diverse sources, sort them, and reassemble them into the desired genealogical format. By properly designing our record-keeping system we can expedite the collecting, sorting and reassembling of data, while minimizing the drudgery involved. The specific recommendations we will make have worked successfully for us and generally meet the requirements of simplicity and logical order. However, we must recognize at the onset that no system is perfect and that many workable variations are possible.

One of our prime objectives is to create a collection of permanent value that can be passed on to some other interested person when we are through with it. Hence it is essential that it be based on clear, simple, organizational principles that anyone can work with. Our record-keeping system consists of a single basic element, an alphabetically arranged biographical file. This file contains dossiers on the specific individuals we have researched, cross references to all the people mentioned in these files, photocopies of records pertaining to families of interest to us, and our research logs on the families we have researched. We use 3-ring loose-leaf notebooks for this file. They have advantages over other possible media in terms of flexibility, ease of use, low cost, and wide availability. In addition, an 8½x11 sheet of paper will hold a reasonable amount of data. Photocopied material is frequently on 8½x11 sheets and can be punched and inserted in this file as appropriate. Odd sized sheets can be cut and taped onto 8½x11 sheets or folded to fit. Sometimes it is preferable to use a large envelope which is punched along the bottom and inserted like a page in the notebook to hold odds and ends of material that we do not wish to mutilate. However, envelopes take up extra space in the file and the material in them is less readily accessible; so we do not use envelopes where they can be avoided.

As we collect data it is absolutely essential that we keep track of what records have been searched, as well as recording the useful data found. For this purpose we need to keep a research log. We begin a new research log for each new surname we begin to research so that when we complete our study of that name or set it aside, we can file that log in our biographical file under the appropriate surname. Then at a later date should we need to come back to that surname for further work, we will have a record of what we did in the past. Our log is also the logical place to jot down conclusions or inferences drawn from our research and also for listing things to be done and sources to be checked to further the research. We may have several logs "working" at any given time.

The log should be primarily a chronological listing of the references or records searched and some indication of the results obtained, the quality of the records, etc. Be sure to record the date and location of your searching; you may need to come back to these same references later and will need to know where you found them. Also be certain to take down complete references--full titles, authors, and place and date of publication for books, and the corresponding data for periodicals, manuscripts, and microfilms. List each source completely before you look through it; then record what you find and what you looked for. For example, if you look in the index to a book or record series for mention of John Smith and find none, write "no John Smith in index" after the bibliographic reference. If you are looking for any Smith references but find none, write "no Smith in index." If the source has no index and you do not have the time at the moment for a page by page search, write "no index--not searched." Always record all your negative results, and make it clear what you searched for.

If you are fortunate in searching for the Smiths, you might record:

John Smith	p. 27, 118, 322
Joseph Smith	p. 27, 29
Lemuel Smith	p. 118, 300

noting the specific page entries that we would probably jot down in any event. The "see files" is the important entry, however, because that shows we have recorded all the data we found on these men onto biographical pages for our files. If we had only taken down data from a few of those page references, we would have put check marks by those page references we had recorded.

The "see files" reference brings us to a description of how our biographical file is organized. It might seem more natural to record the data we have found on our log sheets and then sort and recopy it later at home. But that means writing everything twice which wastes time and introduces more opportunity for copying errors. It is preferable to combine our sorting and collecting operations whenever possible to eliminate the intermediate steps. Since our aim is to reassemble data into family sketches, our biographical file is organized primarily by family units thus combining the sorting and re-assembling operations insofar as possible. The file consists primarily of two types of pages; main pages containing data about the members of specific family units filed under the name of the husband and secondary pages which are simply cross references to the people mentioned on the main pages other than the head of the household. In practice our families do not come pre-packaged, and we have data on many individuals, both male and female, who do not fit into any family units in the beginning. Our system is designed to help in fitting these people into families more or less "automatically."

For filing purposes the husband is considered the head of the household and his full name and year of birth are placed on the upper right-hand side of the file page and are used for alphabetical filing of the pages. A man may marry several times but is considered to have only one family for filing purposes, since when we write up that family they will be treated as a unit regardless of the number of wives. On the other hand a woman who marries more than once is considered to have belonged to several different families and data regarding her is filed on the sheets pertaining to her different husbands. This is consistent with our definition of a family and avoids duplication of records. Similarly, data pertaining to young children and unmarried daughters is filed on the father's page. Data on adult males is recorded on their own separate file on the presumption that they will head a family, although that is not always the case. Data on married daughters is, of course, filed under their husbands' names. Data on unconnected individuals, either male or female, is recorded on separate files under their names pending the discovery of how they fit into known families.

To be more specific: birth records are recorded in the father's file and marriage records in the groom's file. The death record of a child is filed under the father's name, for a male adult under his own name, for a married female under her husband's name, and for an unmarried female adult under her father's name, etc. The objective is to place the information in only one location in the file, that location being where it would be utilized in writing a genealogical sketch of the family. Thus, when we go to an archives to research the Smith family, we take our Smith file with us and add data to existing pages or create new file pages as necessary. In this manner we effectively integrate our collection, sorting, and reassembling operations and minimize the rewriting of data.

At this point we have only discussed data files which are headed by the name of their principal subject. The wives, children, and miscellaneous people mentioned in these files cannot be found without an extensive search, but we must be able to locate all of these people if we are to succeed in fitting the families together. This is accomplished by cross references which we make out after we get home from the library or court house. Basically, every name appearing on every main file other than the one appearing at the top of the page should be cross-indexed; we need to be able to find essentially every person named in our files. There may be a few exceptions. For example, you may decide not to index children known to have died young or officials such as judges, recorders, ministers, etc. These can be omitted without substantial loss in most cases.

A single 8½x11 page will hold numerous cross references, but we will find that most of our cross-reference pages will have only a single entry on them. That may appear to be a waste of paper or space, but it more than compensates by being extremely convenient; all our references to John Smith will be in one location in the file which will help in fitting them together. Married women are something of a nuisance when it comes to cross-indexing because they have to be indexed under every name by which they were known, i.e., their maiden name and all their married names. Thus Hannah Smith, daughter of Isaac Smith, who married (1) John Doe and (2) Frank Jones would be cross referenced on pages headed by the names Hannah Smith, Hannah (Smith) Doe, and Hannah (Smith, Doe) Jones. The cross reference must always be to a data page, not to another cross reference. Thus on the three cross reference pages for Hannah, the reference might be to her father or to either of her husbands, depending on where the data was recorded. All cross references to "Hannah Smith" will be recorded on the same page and as they accumulate we may be led to suspect that some of them refer to one and the same person. A check of the data pages may show that this is indeed the case and thus a connection has been brought to our attention by our filing system.

In cross-indexing the following abbreviations for important relationships are useful: d/o--daughter of, f/o--father of, h/o--husband of, m/o--mother of, s/o--son of, w/o--wife of. In addition we need cross references such as "see John Doe" for people who are mentioned but whose relationship is either not known or not close enough to use the abbreviations. As names on the main entry pages are cross-indexed they should be underlined or otherwise marked so that you can tell at a glance later that they have been indexed. Remember that as time passes you will add data to these main entry files and that there is no need to duplicate the cross references.

Pages will be filed in the biographical file alphabetically by surnames. Under a given surname items will be arranged in the following order: (1) logs of research on that surname, (2) photocopies or abstracts of data on that surname which have not been broken down onto individual family sheets, (3) cross reference sheets and main data sheets alphabetically arranged by given names. Within a specific given name the cross reference pages are filed first, the undated data sheets are filed second, and then the dated sheets in chronological order.

A very important subject not discussed sufficiently up to this point is documentation. We have noted that complete documentation is recorded in the research log, but that is not enough. When we begin to compose our genealogical sketches we will need specific and accurate documentation supporting the statements drawn from the main biographical files. Thus as we are recording data in these files, it is essential that each entry be accompanied by its correct citation just as it appears in the research log. Some compromise on this point may be permissible when you have a large number of entries based on a single well-known reference, especially if the full citation is very long and involved. In that case it may be permissible to use an abbreviated reference; but this is very dangerous because, if the complete reference is lost, the authenticity of your data immediately becomes suspect, and you may be faced with formidable problems when you come to prepare your genealogical sketches.

NOTE TAKING AND RECORD KEEPING

Page Five

With this system you will be able to retrieve data on nearly every person in your files with little effort, the unconnected people will appear together under any given name, the cross references will help to uncover their connections with the known families, the data will be partially arranged in the form you will want for publication, and the necessary documentation will be readily at hand. In addition, this system is simple to understand and use and reduces to a minimum any dependence on memory. It is also sufficiently flexible that it adapts to changing needs and can be instituted at any time.

MARCH 1974 MEETING

Wednesday, March 6, 1974, 7:30 p.m., Bowie Library, Route 450 and Belair Drive. Program will be "Scotch and Scotch-Irish Settlement in America" by Freeman Morgan, followed by Problem Session.

NEW EXCHANGE

Genealogical Society of Vermont, Carol Church, Editor, Westminster West, R. F. D. 3, Putney VT 05346.

NEW DEADLINE

The deadline for material for the BULLETIN is now the date of the meeting preceding each issue.

EDITORIAL

A Society is only as good as the participation of its members. A member participates by contributing Ancestor Tables, Biographies, Queries, Cemetery and other Records to the BULLETIN. A member may serve on committees, sign up to bring refreshments, or any number of things. The Program Committee is always seeking recommendations for speakers or members willing to talk at a Problem Session. The newly formed Membership Committee is very eager for suggestions and ideas. For people willing to give a specific amount of time, the Records Committee needs material checked.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

The membership roster for 1974 begins on page 15.
A new format for Exchange Notes is on page 18. Do you like it?

MINUTES OF THE PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, February 6, 1974

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were announced. Several members presented their spouses. The minutes of the January meeting were approved as published in the BULLETIN.

The Secretary reported on the mail received. She also reported on the status of House bill H.R.7762 which might have closed the newly opened (Dec.3,1973) 1900 census. She had contacted Mr. Bray of the House Subcommittee on Census and Statistics and he informed her that the bill was dead and that no new legislation would be forthcoming. Therefore, censuses from 1790-1900 would remain open to the public.

President Barnes announced the organization of an ad hoc committee to review the Bylaws. A Council meeting would be held on February 21 at his home and each committee chairman should have his final budget for the year.

The Treasurer gave his report and stated that there is $690.02 in the savings account and $231.17 in the checking account.

The Program Committee Chairman, Mr. Freeman Morgan, announced that the tentative program for the March meeting would be a Mr. Charles Callow from the Prince George's County Circuit Court office. If Mr. Callow could not attend, the meeting would be a "problem" meeting. Mr. Morgan then passed out a roster of questions on the kind of programs the membership would like to have during the year.

The Publications Committee Chairman, Mrs. Kay Mayhew, announced that 239 copies of the "New Hampshire Genealogical Research Guide" had been sold to date. She also announced that the new deadline for material for the BULLETIN would be the evening of the Society's meeting.

The Education Committee Chairman, Mrs. Ann Brown, announced that there were Beginner's Kits available and that a supply of booklets were on sale.

The Records Committee Chairman, Mr. Laird Towle, reported on four projects his Committee is working on for the year. They are: 1) the verifying of the 1st Book of Deeds with Mr. Towle as project leader; 2) transcribing the 1850 Prince George's County census with Mr. Orville Russell as project leader; 3) compiling a bibliography of already printed material on the county with Mr. Emerald Miner as project leader; and 4) putting together a file of family group sheets on Prince George's County families.

Mr. Laird Towle reported for the Librarian, Mrs. Kay Newland, that she had put together a list of 15 books as a suggestion for the Society to purchase.

Membership Committee Chairman, Mrs. Jeanne Bornefeld, reported on her ideas for the committee. They included a handout sheet for prospective members, a fact sheet to be placed in various places to announce our Society and its meetings, and a membership drive campaign.

Unfinished Business: Mrs. Lorraine Van Tassel announced that she had not yet audited the Treasurer's books for 1973.

Announcements: The Maryland Historical Society will no longer answer genealogical inquiries....Mr. Robert Barnes has suggested that the MHS publish a book on early Maryland family bible records....The Port Tobacco Court House is now open as a museum....The Charles County Historical Society library at La Plata is open.... Ann Herbert donated to the Society a complete set of NGS quarterly magazines from 1971-1973.

Program Chairman Mr. Morgan announced the speaker for the evening, Mr. Milton Rubincam. He spoke on "Pitfalls Encountered in Genealogy".

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS by George Ely Russell, C.G.

Q. 15. I found my ancestor's birth recorded in a Scottish parish register as Andrew, son of Robert Lamont and Isabel Ferguson. Does that mean his parents weren't married? I don't care if he was illegitimate, but I want to know. (L.R.)

A. The Scots were quite frank about illegitimacy and specified it in their parish registers of baptisms. The maiden name of the mother was invariably recorded, as well as the specific locale of the couple's residence, and even the father's occupation. In towns where there were two men of the same name, the registers often distinguished between them by providing the names of their fathers. Example: Robert Lamont, of Hugh; Robert Lamont, of Andrew. Such good record-keeping practices are very advantageous to genealogists working on Scottish families.

 WHATSISNAME ***

Just for fun we should like to run a contest (no prize) for unusual given names. Your entry must be documented and must place the person in a specific place at a specific time. Send entries to Editor.

Elder HATEVIL Nutter of Dover NH in 1637 and VALENTINE Felker of Barrington NH in 1806 were submitted by Laird Towle. We would not say the given name was unusual but the combination was good for GREEN PEASE of Martha's Vineyard MA in 1714.

FEBRUARY MEETING

We were very fortunate to have Milton Rubincam speak to us at the last meeting. A copy of "Pitfalls in Genealogy" has been presented to the Society. Mr. Rubincam began with the basic research requirements, such as thoroughness, constant review of the periodicals, ability to evaluate evidence, and knowledge of history. He then warned us to watch out for unproved family traditions, surnames that may be anglicized, faulty chronology, forged pedigrees, noble or royal pedigrees, and failure to study history as an aid to genealogical research.

PENNSYLVANIA researchers may get a copy of "Research Sources, Materials, and Limitations Noted in Pennsylvania" from Freeman Morgan. He is selling photocopies at cost, 25¢. (Mail orders might include 16¢ postage. Ed.)

Surnames of interest to Emerald Miner (vol 4, # 5) are MEDEARIS, MEIER, MILLER, MINER, MOUNT, NESBITT, NORCOTT, OLDWEIDER, PATTERSON, RAY, REEVES, RICHEY, ROBERTSON, SANFORD, SCOTT, SHIELDS, SKIFF, SNOW, SPARKS, STALKER, STEPHENSON, SWANSON, SWARTZ, TILLEY, TUTTLE, WALDEN, WALL, WARNER, WARREN, WEIR, WHITE, WIGGINS.

BOOK REVIEW by Shirley Langdon Wilcox, C.G.

Bessie Wilmarth Gahn, Original Patentees of Land at Washington Prior to 1700. (1936; reprinted 1969) Genealogical Publishing Company, Inc. 521-523 St. Paul Place, Baltimore MD 21202. 85 pp. Index. $8.50. Gift from the publisher.

This book on patentees of the Washington, D. C. area contains both historical and genealogical information. It is divided into four parts, the first part giving a brief background on the settlement of the area, how land was allotted, and the present availability of and repositories for these records. In Part Two, each of the eighteen original land owners at Washington City is treated separately, with biographical and genealogical data being given in addition to descriptions of the land they held. The author is to be commended for a thorough citation of records used. The patentees were: William Hutchinson, John Watson, John Langworth, John Lewger, Richard and William Pinner, John Peerce, Francis Pope, Robert Troope, George Thompson, Walter Houp, Walter Thompson, Andrew Clarke, Zachariah Wade, Richard Evans, William Atcheson, Walter Evans, Col. Henry Jowles, and Col. Ninean Beall. Also included in Part Two are lists of land owners in the District of Columbia area that was once part of Maryland, Virginia, and Annapolis Island (now called Theodore Roosevelt Island). The Maryland list includes the tract name, number of acres, date and Annapolis reference.

Part Three is devoted to relations with the Indians previous to 1700 and Part Four contains excerpts from seventeenth century documents. The index to persons and places indicates only in which of the four parts the reference is to be found; no page is given, which is regrettable. On the whole a very useful reference book.

OUR MEMBERS - Gleason L. Brier

Gleason L. Brier was born in Tippecanoe Co. IN to Fernando and Philena B. (Clearwater) Brier. He received his BSCE from Purdue University in 1924. He is married with two sons. (See January issue, Ancestor Table.) He has lived also in Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland. He is now retired.

He became interested in genealogy during the Depression when he needed something to occupy his time. His search now covers DE: Kent, Sussex Counties; IN; KY: central counties; western NC; OH: Miami Valley; PA: York, Cumberland, Franklin, Westmoreland, Washington counties; VA: eastern shore, Shenandoah Valley; WV: Hampshire, Harrison counties; and MD: eastern shore, counties of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Frederick, Prince George's and Montgomery. He is especially interested in the following Maryland names: ALLISON, COWIE, ENLOW, WEST, MEARS, MASTERSON, STOCKETT, WILLET, BEALE.

Society membership $5 includes BULLETIN: 2 members/1 family $7.50 (1 BULLETIN). Incomplete vols. 2, 3, 4 are $2.50 per volume. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of the month.

EDITOR: Catherine Merwin Mayhew, 4023 Wharton Turn, Bowie MD 20715
ASST.ED: Marlene Towne Towle, 3602 Maureen Lane, Bowie MD 20715
QUERIES: Fred Bevenour, 11368 Cherry Hill Rd #303, Beltsville MD 20705

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were introduced. Minutes of the last meeting were corrected: the Librarian's report was given by President Barnes.

President Barnes reported on last month's Council meeting and the discussion of the Society's budget was the main consideration. Mr. Laird Towle reminded the President that the membership must vote on the budget and moved that it be approved. It was so voted. Mr. Fred Bevenour was appointed a chairman of a committee to investigate the possibilities of larger meeting space for the Society.

The Secretary reported on a Genealogical Seminar on March 30 in Baltimore, a 10-week course on Basic Genealogical Research beginning Feb. 28 in Glen Burnie, and of an Upper Shore Genealogical Society of MD covering Caroline, Kent, Queen Anne and Talbot Counties in MD.

The Treasurer reported that the savings account has $690.02 and the checking account has $363.10.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Program Committee Chairman announced that April's meeting would be a "problem session".

Publications Committee report, given by Mrs. Marlene Towle, stated that 242 copies of the "New Hampshire Genealogical Research Guide" had been sold to date and that ancestor tables are still being accepted for publication in the BULLETIN.

Education Committee Chairman, Mrs. Ann Brown, announced that Beginner's Kits were available along with several items for sale.

Records Committee Chairman, Mr. Laird Towle, reported on the 3 projects of his committee and introduced the 3 project leaders who gave brief reports. Mr. Towle also reported on the Prince George's County family register project. A flyer has been made up explaining how to submit a family to the register.

The Library Committee Chairman, Mr. Kay Newland, reported on a sign-up sheet for books to be taken out for a month from the Society's library.

Membership Committee Chairman, Mrs. Jeanne Bornefeld, reported that fact sheets would be available at the next meeting, and that anyone interested in posting Society advertisements could pick one up at break.

There will be a Council meeting on March 21 at President Barnes' home.

SHOW & TELL: Doris Perry asked for volunteers to sign the cookie sheet, and related her happy ending to her legal name change, told of a new Brasfield genealogy, and a Boy Scouts Genealogy Badge with 9 requirements....Freeman Morgan mentioned 4 books "pushed" by the Conn. Soc. of Genealogy....Donald Barnes showed a genealogical chart of the Kings and queens of Great Britain....Shirley Wilcox showed 3 booklets dealing with genealogical research and resources....Olive Jones told of a history of Cumberland and Adam Counties (PA) and of an 8-week course at the Institute for Lifetime Genealogy....Milton Rubincam told of an English genealogist--A.C. Addington--book on the legitimate descendants of the Royal House of Stuart and of his assistance with a future work on the illegitimate descendants, especially those of Charles the second.

Mr. Freeman Morgan then spoke on "Scotch and Scotch-Irish Settlements in America" and Mrs. Sue O'Malley then gave a "problem" on a John Briggs born in Washington County, NY ca 1785.

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

BOOK REVIEW By George Ely Russell, C.G.

Helen W. Brown, Index of Marriage Licenses, Prince George's Co., Md, 1777-1886. (1971, reprinted Baltimore 1973) Genealogical Publishing Co., 521-523 St. Paul Place, Baltimore MD 21202. v. 249 pp. Hard cover. $10.00. Gift from the Publisher.

As is explained in the author's foreword, marriage licenses were not required in Maryland until 1777, and searchers should also check church registers for marriage records. Mrs. Brown has transcribed from the original record books at the Hall of Records, Annapolis, the over 6,500 licenses issued in the period 1777-1886. The over 13,000 names have been arranged in alphabetical order, thus obviating the need for a separate index to brides. This type of arrangement, while making extra work for the compiler, certainly eases the searcher's task of finding names of interest.

Our only criticism is of the compiler's practice of converting all month dates to numerals, which can only lead to confusion and error. Professional style manuals recommend that all dates be presented in order day - month (spelled out or abbreviated) - year. Example: 1 April 1884, not 4-1-1884.

BOOK REVIEW By Donald Barnes

Robert Barnes, Marriages and Deaths from the Maryland Gazette, 1727-1839. (1973) Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc., Baltimore MD 21202. 234 pp. Indexed. $10.00. Gift from the Publisher.

The book is divided into two sections with a short introduction which gives a little of the history of the Maryland Gazette from its establishment in 1727 by William Parks.

The first section deals with marriage and death notices. The majority of these deal with Maryland people but not just from the Annapolis area as there are obituaries from the other counties. One of the most interesting obituaries appears on page 64:

"Mrs. Barbara Franks, died at her residence in German Township on the Sabbath morning, 12th ult. in her 98th yr. She was born in Germany in 1741 and came to America in 1775 with her father, Conrad Bradenburg. She married Jacob Franks, and they went to western Pa. She was the mother of 4 sons, 3 daughters, 64 grandchildren, 303 great-grandchildren and had 93 of her fourth generation."

Here we have six generations of one family if we take the time to read the obituary. The Franks of western Pennsylvania, if they do not have this information, should be very appreciative of Mr. Barnes' work.

The second section gives notes on Maryland clergy. By knowing what churches or circuits the minister in question served it is possible to find your ancestors and to trace their movements and migrations more easily. The religion of the minister will often assist the researcher in moving the pedigree back another generation or two.

A must for anyone with Maryland ancestry. The references to Prince George's County are too numerous to mention, no doubt they will aid and assist in our ultimate collections. Mr. Barnes has given us a valuable aid--use it.

BOOK REVIEW By Alma I. Lanier

Magruder's Maryland Colonial Abstracts 1772-1777, Wills, Accounts and Inventories 1772-1777, Five volumes in one. Compiled by James M. Magruder, Jr. (1934-1939, reprint 1968) Genealogical Publishing Co., 521-523 St. Paul Place, Baltimore MD 21202. Cloth cover. $30.00. Gift from the Publisher.

A valuable asset in genealogical and historical data, now compiled in one volume.

Abstracts of about 1,500 wills, accounts, and inventories, covering the period 1772-1777. Each section has a Testators index and a general index. Includes names of testators, dates of drawing and probates of the wills, names and residences of wives, children and legatees, with references to the exact sources for the abstracts.

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were announced. Minutes of the last meeting were approved as published in the BULLETIN.

The Secretary reported on the mail: an advertisement from the Associates of the National Archives on a Genealogists' Fair to be held May 11 at the Archives with the theme "Local Map Sources and Their Uses"; an invitation from the County Historical Society to a dinner commemorating St. George's Day, April 23, being the 278th anniversary of the founding of our county; a letter from Ronald A. Bremer, Gencor, Inc., Salt Lake City, UTAH, suggesting a free genealogical seminar; and announced that the Archives has a sheet describing the Procedure Governing Access to the Schedules of the Census of Population of 1900.

President Barnes reported on an advertisement in the January issue of the Genealogical Helper pertaining to a book being published by Gencor, Inc. on Compendium of American Historical Sources. The Secretary is to answer the advertisement.

The Treasurer reported that the checking account has $181.43 and the John Hanson savings account has $183.00 and the Belair savings account has $690.02.

President Barnes announced that the speaker for the May meeting would be Mary K. Matossian, associate professor of history at the University of MD, who specializes in family history and is currently doing a study on English family history.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Education Committee Chairman reported that Beginners' Kits were available along with several items for sale.

Records Committee project leader for the 1850 census of Prince George's County reported that it is approximately 25-50% abstracted or copied.

Publications Committee reported that the BULLETIN is printed on recycled paper.

Library Committee Chairman reported that a listing of the Society's library contents would be available and should be printed in the BULLETIN. It was suggested that those who have not made out 3x5 index cards listing their genealogical books available for loan to members be made out and given to the Chairman.

Membership Committee Chairman reported that the fact sheets and advertisements were available for posting in various places in the area.

The auditor reported that the Society's books for 1973 are in order.

There were 3 new members voted into membership.

ANNOUNCEMENTS & SHOW & TELL

President Barnes briefly reported on the seminar held in Baltimore on March 30th and that several members attended...Mrs. Pricia Paulkovitch read her reply from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah, regarding their filming of all Missouri counties south of the Missouri River except Jackson, Cass, Lafayette, Johnson, Morgan, Jefferson, Vernon and Taney. All counties should be available in 2 to 3 years....Kay Newland was appointed to check on the opening to the public of the LDS tabernacle in Silver Spring, MD....A Flickinger family (Pennsylvania) tree book was shown by a member.

The program for the evening were three "problems" given by Fred Bevenour, Pricia Paulkovitch, and Mary Faust. It was suggested that when a possible solution was given orally it be written and passed on to the speaker for reference.

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

BOOK REVIEW by Shirley Langdon Wilcox, C.G.

Clifford Neal Smith, Federal Land Series, Volume 1, 1788-1810. (1972)
American Library Association, Chicago. 338 pp. Indexed. Purchased by the Society.

Using various sources, the author has compiled a listing of land patents granted in the area that is now Ohio. This very valuable material cannot be found in court houses, as it is only when the original purchaser sells his land that it is recorded in county records. Sources for this volume include files of the U. S. Treasury, the U. S. Dept. of State, the General Land office, district land offices, miscellaneous records including those of speculative land companies and records of the U. S. Senate and House. Previous to publication of this work there was no index to purchasers of land recorded in the above sources. The reader should be cautioned that this work is not all inclusive as there are other sources such as Federal bounty-land warrants and grants made by the original thirteen states, which are not included.

A vast amount of data is covered in this volume. In order to make use of the data, it is essential that the reader read the introduction thoroughly. There are four sections to this volume. The first, and largest, is the calendar of archival material. Each entry is given a serial number and includes among other data the date the manuscript was calendared, the name of the patentee, and a description of the whereabouts of the land tract. The manuscript source is also cited, giving the microfilm roll and page numbers.

The second section is a name index and the third a subject index. Reference is made to the serial numbers, rather than the page, which greatly speeds the time it takes in checking entries of interest.

The fourth and final section is a tract index. Included in this section are three tract maps. Two pages in the introduction are devoted to an explanation of their use. It is this reviewer's opinion that many readers will find this explanation somewhat lacking. The reader is, however, referred to another publication for further clarification. A few paragraphs on reading tract maps would have been most helpful for the novice.

BICENTENNIAL HISTORY PROJECT

Montgomery County, Maryland, plans to publish a comprehensive county history to mark the bicentennial in 1976. Many individuals and families migrated from Montgomery County to other parts of the United States in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. The Bicentennial History Project, c/o Richard K. McMaster, 99 South Perry Street, Rockville MD 20859 would like to include this information on these families in their published history and in the archives and research library to be established at the Rockville Public Library as part of the historical project. Also they are especially anxious to obtain copies of originals of letters written to these emigrants by friends and relatives in Montgomery County for preservation in the library.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark has traced family lines to Prince George's County MD and is presently working on JONES, REED, EVANS, MORLEY and MARKLAND. (We are pleased to have received her Ancestor Table which will appear in a future BULLETIN. Ed.)

* * * * *

Mr. Edwin Brown is also descended from early settlers in this county. The Browns lived in Collington Manor in Collington Hundred and the Brashears in Patuxent Hundred. His surnames of special interest here are BROWN, BRASHEAR, JONES, BEVANS, BOYD, CODGER, GOE and also TURNER from Calvert County MD.

BOOK REVIEW BY ALMA I. LANIER

Frank J. Metcalf and George H. Martin, Marriages and Deaths 1800-1820 From the National Intelligencer, Washington, D. C. Cloth cover, 203 pp. $15.00 Purchased by the Society from the National Genealogical Society, publisher.

The marriage and deaths published in the National Intelligencer were not confined to Washington, D. C. but included persons from all parts of the United States and a few prominent persons in foreign lands.

This is a fascinating book of history made 174 years ago, almost like a good novel that one cannot put down until it is read completely. Marriages were for the very young and the very old. In 1805 "Aldey, Perrin, aged 105, and Mrs. Ann Tankesley, aged 90, were married Aug. 30 in Charlotte Co., Va. The third marriage for both." "Lyles, Enoch M., of Alexandria, Va., was killed by John F. Bowie, of Piscataway, Md., in a duel at Johnson's Spring."

The deaths of Revolutionary soldiers are well covered, listing the heroic deeds of individuals and the battles that they took part in.

A must for every library, private or public.

MINUTES OF THE PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, May 1, 1974

The meeting was called to order by President Donald Barnes. Several guests and visitors were present. Minutes of the last meeting were approved as published in the BULLETIN.

The Secretary was reported ill and unable to attend, therefore no report on the mail was given.

President Barnes reported there was no Council meeting in April nor will there be one in May.

The Treasurer reported $27.51 expenditures for April, leaving $866.42 with $15.00 not yet banked bringing the total to $881.42. He also reported changing the Society's savings account from a bank that pays 5% to a bank that pays 6% interest.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Education Committee report was given by Shirley Wilcox. She encouraged everyone to take the free educational material and purchase the material supplied at cost by the Society. She also put out the surname file and encouraged its use.

Records Committee Chairman reported the Committee is making progress on the bibliography of Prince George's Co. source records and 1850 Census. The checking of the first book of deeds is 45% done. The family register is growing.

Publications Committee Chairman reported 251 copies have been sold of the New Hampshire Genealogical Research Guide.

Library Committee Chairman reported the Committee has ordered U. S. Census Compendium by John D. Stemmons and Survey of American Church Records by E. Kay Kirkham.

Program Committee Chairman reported the program for next month will be "Research Facilities and Procedures of the NSDAR" given by Mrs. C. A. Temerario of Oxon Hill MD. Mrs. Temerario is the D. C. Chairman for lineage research for DAR.

Membership Committee Chairman reminded members of name tags and also extended a welcome to all members, guests, and visitors. Three new members were voted into membership: Flora Cameron Young May, Willmore Treon Pyles and Terri Lee Raley Pyles.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SHOW & TELL

We were reminded of the Genealogists' Fair at the National Archives on May 11. We were invited to Bowie Heritage Day on May 19.

Mr. Freeman Morgan's Scotch-Irish talk is available at 25¢ per copy. The Search for Anna Fisher was brought by Pricia Paulkovich who recommended it to anyone searching for the parents of an adopted child; she also presented a tombstone rubbing.

Sue O'Malley brought The Washington Post "Potomac Magazine" article on genealogy complete with picture of Milton Rubincam and his ancestor. Laird Towle said "The Augustan" now prints a Scottish, Irish, Spanish and German genealogical helper, available to subscribers.

The meeting was adjourned.

The program for the evening was "Person to Person: Family History Through Interviewing" by Dr. Mary K. Matossian.

Respectfully submitted,
Jeanne M. Bornefeld,
Vice President

BOOK REVIEW by Shirley Langdon Wilcox, C.G.

Kenn Stryker-Rodda, Genealogical Research Volume 2. 1971: The American Society of Genealogists. Purchased by the Society.

Those who are familiar with volume 1, which is now being revised, will be happy to know that volume 2 follows the mark of excellence established in the first volume.

Volume 2 consists of two parts, Regional Genealogy and Special Studies. The individual chapters were written by specialists in the various fields, many of them Fellows of The American Society of Genealogists.

Part 1, Regional Genealogy, begins with a chapter on Northwest Territory migrations by the late Lucy Mary Kellogg. It then continues by devoting a chapter to each of the expansion states east of the Mississippi River, viz. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

Part 2, Special Studies, contains chapters on Ontario, Huguenot Migrations, and Jewish Migrations. The content and format of each chapter vary as the authors were free to present their material as they saw fit. However, each chapter usually contains a general history of the area, data on the type of records available and where they can be found, the collections of state or other large libraries, periodicals published containing information pertinent to that area, and lists of general reference books for the area.

This is an excellent reference book and should be on the "must purchase" list for anyone who had ancestors living in the areas covered.

PROGRAM NOTES By Sarah Fleming

"Person to Person: Family History Through Interviewing" by Dr. Mary K. Matossian was the program for the May meeting. The program was fascinating and thought provoking.

Dr. Matossian's approach to family history involves what she calls the family system theory. The idea is the family is an emotional system composed of triangles. These triangles can shift around. The more transient they are, the healthier the family.

Researching one's family can be psychologically very beneficial. She gave several dramatic examples of people finding their identity through family research. Family research helps extend and reestablish family ties. The more extended the family ties, the healthier the family.

Her recommendations for interviewing family members include:

- * Interview person to person, one to one.
- * Begin with a remote relative, e.g., a second cousin, because it is easier.
- * Find out all you can about why people were given their names. A person is sometimes programmed for the person named for.
- * Pay close attention to dates. Dates are important in the study of cause and effect. Did a mental breakdown occur before or after a family death? Also there is the anniversary phenomenon, e.g., a person dying on a birth or wedding anniversary.
- * Determine sibling rank.
- * Find out relationships between family members, especially strong relationships both positive and negative.

* * * * *

The following is from the April 1974 "News and Notes" of the Prince George's County Historical Society:

The latest addition to the National Register of Historic Places in Prince George's County is St. John's Church, Broad Creek. The fourth building on this site, St. John's was erected in 1767-68 and is an important example of the 18th century architectural style. It is the parish church of King George's (Piscataway) Parish, one of the 30 original parishes established in the province by act of the General Assembly in 1693.

At present St. John's is in the process of restoration and it is also in the throes of a zoning battle. Proposed nearby commercial zoning not only presents aesthetic problems but potential flooding problems from the nearby creek as well.

WE NEED YOU!

We cannot deny a feeling of satisfaction when someone comments with favor about our BULLETIN. But have you noticed all the members who contribute? That is what makes our BULLETIN what it is.

If you need help on the Ancestor Table, please do not hesitate to ask. We have forms to get you started.

Have you given us your mini-biography? We have forms to get you on the way for that too.

Have you sent your queries in to Fred Bevenour, our Queries Editor?

We also welcome criticism, constructive comments, and indications of what you want in your BULLETIN.

We should like to hear what you like about the BULLETIN, whether you get answers to your queries, if you ever use the exchanges, etc.

Have a good summer! And if you are in the New Carrollton area, you may find the Researcher's Guide to American Genealogy by Val D. Greenwood, introduction by Milton Rubincam (1973: Baltimore, Genealogical Publishing Co.). Shirley Wilcox found this is not put away on the reference shelf but is available for circulation at the New Carrollton branch of the Prince George's County Library.

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were announced. Minutes of the last meeting were approved as published in the BULLETIN. The Secretary gave her report on mail received.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Education Committee Chairman reported that Beginners' Kits were available along with several items for sale, and reminded the members of the surname file.

Records Committee Chairman reported on the progress of the 1850 census and that the Prince George's County Family Register project was growing.

Publications Committee Chairman inquired as to the BULLETIN being received by members. She also asked for queries and ancestor tables.

Library Committee Chairman's report was given by Mrs. Shirley Wilcox for Mrs. Kay Newland.

Membership Committee Chairman read the names of two prospective members and a vote was taken to elect them.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS: A discussion of the Bylaws Review Committee's changes reflecting two main features. The first is a shift in the meeting year from January to June with new officers taking over in July; the second is the election of the council by the full membership. The Bylaws would be effective next July (1975).

New Business: Mr. Jess Brown told of a problem encountered in Hartford, Conn. about possessing a membership card in an incorporated genealogical society in order to peruse a copy of a death certificate or other vital record.

SHOW & TELL: Mr. Robert Ward told of a letter received from the Seattle Genealogical Society, Inc., P.O. Box 549, Seattle, Wash. 98111, about a compilation of the family of Smiths in the U.S. prior to 1910 coordinated by Mrs. Leonard W. Stevens....Mr. Laird Towle mentioned the Genealogical Institute beginning on July 16 with "Research on Minority Groups" at the National Archives....Mrs. Sarah Fleming reported that she had a microfilm copy of the vital records of Kentucky from 1874-1878 on temporary loan. The counties covered are: Casey, Christian, Clark, Clay, Clinton, Crittenden, Cumberland, Davies, Edmonson, Elliott, Estill, Fleming, Floyd, Franklin, Fulton, Gallatin, Garrond, Grant, and Graves.

The Treasurer gave his report. The checking account has $181.42 and the savings account has $881.91.

Mrs. Shirley Wilcox stated that Greenwood's Guide to American Genealogy was at New Carrollton and Bowie and that each branch has circulating and reference copies....Mrs. Jane Wardrip mentioned a book entitled Landmarks of the Revolution and that it is arranged by states....Mrs. Ruth Rheams showed a magazine entitled "Early American Life"....Mrs. Pricia Paulkovitch showed a copy of a Woman's Journal of 1909 published in Boston describing the woman's movement of that time....Mr. Orville Russell told of the American Genealogical Research Institute in Arlington and of a book on "The Freeman Family".

The program for the evening was a talk on the Daughters of the American Revolution by Mrs. Temerario of Oxon Hill.

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

ARTICLE III - NONPROFIT CHARACTER. The Society shall be operated as a nonprofit organization, no part of the net earnings of which shall inure to the benefit of any private individual.

ARTICLE IV - SOCIETY OBJECTIVES. The objectives of the Society shall be:

1. To collect, preserve, and disseminate genealogical knowledge and information.
2. To inculcate and promote interest in genealogical research.
3. To stimulate and provide instruction in the use of proper research methodology and adherence to standards of accuracy and thoroughness in research.
4. To foster careful documentation and to promote scholarly genealogical writing and publication.
5. To champion ethical standards and to discourage and oppose incompetent and fraudulent practices.
6. To promote the preservation of genealogical records and resources of Prince George's County.
7. To hold meetings for the instruction and entertainment of its members and the general public.

ARTICLE V - MEMBERSHIP AND DUES.

Section 1. Any individual, married couple, organization or institution interested in promoting the objectives of the Society shall be deemed eligible for membership, subject to such limitations as the Society shall impose.

Section 2. The Society shall be composed of Annual, Life and Honorary Life Members.

Section 3. Annual Members are those paying dues for each fiscal year; Life Members are those who have paid at one time twenty times the current annual dues; Honorary Life Members are those whom the Society has elected to such status on the recommendation of the Council.

Section 4. Annual dues, the amount to be determined by the Council, shall apply to the current fiscal year and are payable prior to election to membership and thereafter by the September meeting each year. Members whose application is approved at or following the January meeting shall pay one-half the annual dues for the remainder of the year in which the application is approved.

Section 5. Dues for married couples shall be one and one-half the amount of individual dues.

ARTICLE V - MEMBERSHIP AND DUES, continued

Section 6. Those who are delinquent after the regular meeting in October, shall be suspended from membership.

Section 7. Membership applications shall be submitted in writing, accompanied by the appropriate dues, and shall be voted upon by the members at a regular meeting of the Society.

Section 8. Any member may be dropped from membership in the Society for misconduct, or conduct prejudicial to the welfare of the Society by a vote of two-thirds of the Council. Such action may be appealed to the general membership by written petition within ninety days after notification of the Council's action. A two-thirds vote of the general membership shall be required to overturn the decision of the Council.

ARTICLE VI- OFFICERS.

Section 1. The officers of the Society shall be an Immediate Past President, President, First Vice-President, Second Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Publications Chairman, Records Chairman, and Education Chairman. All, except the Immediate Past President, shall be elected annually for a one-year term. No one shall serve as President for more than two consecutive terms.

Section 2. A vacancy in any elective position shall be filled by appointment by the Council until the next annual election.

ARTICLE VII - DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

Section 1. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Society, shall be the official spokesman of the Society, shall preside at all meetings of the Society and the Council, and shall be an ex officio member of all committees except the Nominating Committee.

Section 2. The First Vice-President shall perform the duties of President in the absence or disability of the President. He shall also be Program Chairman and as such shall be responsible for (a) providing an appropriate program at each regular meeting of the Society, (b) securing and arranging the meeting place, (c) providing refreshments as appropriate, (d) arranging for suitable publicity, (e) and such other functions concerning the preparation and presentation of programs as the Council may direct.

Section 3. The Second Vice-President shall perform the duties of President in the absence or disability of both the President and First Vice-President. He shall also be Membership Chairman and as such shall be responsible for (a) processing new membership applications, including presenting the applications for election to membership at regular monthly meetings of the Society, (b) conducting membership drives using appropriate advertising, etc., (c) providing name tags for members and visitors at meetings of the Society, and (d) such other duties concerning the development of membership as the Council may direct.

Section 4. The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the Society and the Council, shall have custody of all papers and reports ordered placed on file and of all documents and letters relating to the official business of the Society, and shall conduct the correspondence of the Society not otherwise provided for.

Section 5. The Treasurer shall keep a current record of all active and former members of the Society, shall have custody of the funds of the Society, shall deposit them in such bank as directed by the Council. He shall keep full and accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall render an annual written report at the September meeting following completion of his term.

Section 6. The Publications Chairman shall be responsible for (a) the editing, typing, printing, etc. of such regular or special publications as may be approved for publication by the Council, (b) directing and coordinating the activities of any special officers appointed to the Publications Committee such as the Bulletin Editor, Assistant Editor, Special Publications Editors, etc., (c) and such other publishing functions as the Council may direct.

Section 7. The Records Chairman shall be responsible for (a) collecting, preserving, cataloging, etc. original, manuscript, or typescript records of Prince George's County which may be acquired by gift or purchase, (b) compiling, abstracting, indexing, etc. records which are of wide interest and suitable for publication, (c) preparing research aids and guides appropriate to research in the records of the county, (d) directing and coordinating the activities of any special officers appointed to the Records Committee such as an Archivist, Registrar, Special Project Leader, etc., (e) and such other records functions as the Council may direct.

Section 8. The Education Chairman shall be responsible for (a) providing educational activities and functions directed at improving the genealogical research capabilities of the members, and the genealogical services provided by the Society, (b) maintaining files of the surname interests of the members, and their geographic areas of expertise, (c) acquiring by purchase or gift genealogical books, periodicals, etc. which may be of use to the members in their research, (d) cataloging and circulating the materials in the Society's library, (e) directing the activities of any special officers appointed to the Education Committee such as a Librarian, and (f) such other educational functions as may be directed by the Council.

ARTICLE VIII - COUNCIL.

Section 1. The Council shall consist of the officers of the Society.

Section 2. The Council shall manage the affairs of the Society, and shall recommend the annual budget for the Society; the Council is subject to the will of the Membership and none of its acts shall conflict with action taken by the Membership.

Section 3. The Council shall meet at least twice during the period from September to June inclusive and at such other times as necessity may demand, on call of the President or three Councilors, or on the written request of five general members, at least three days' notice having been given to each Councilor as to the time and place of said meeting.

Section 4. A summary of the minutes of each Council meeting shall be reported at the next regular meeting of the Society.

Section 5. A quorum shall consist of a simple majority of the Councilors.

Section 6. The Council shall present the annual budget containing an itemized list of expected revenues and planned expenditures for approval by the membership at the third regular meeting following the election of officers.

Section 7. The Council may not authorize the expenditure of more than $100.00 for any single purchase without approval of the membership via the budget or by special authorization.

Section 8. No Officer may expend more than his total budget allotment without specific Council approval, and no Officer may expend more than $25.00 for any single item not specifically approved in his budget without specific Council approval.

ARTICLE IX - COMMITTEES

Section 1. The standing committees shall be Program, Membership, Publications, Records, and Education. They shall be chaired by the elected officers specified above.

Section 2. The President shall appoint the members of the standing committees with the advice and consent of the respective chairman.

Section 3. The business of the Society shall be conducted through the standing committees wherever possible, but the President may appoint ad hoc committees when necessary for specific purposes with the advice and consent of the Council.

ARTICLE X - NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS.

Section 1. At the regular meeting of the Society in April of each year the President shall announce the appointment of a Nominating Committee consisting of a Chairman and three other members. The Chairman of the Nominating Committee shall be the Immediate Past President. If that position is vacant, the President shall appoint as Chairman some other former President or Council member with the advice and consent of the Council. The three other members shall be appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Council.

Section 2. The committee shall nominate a candidate for each elected office. They shall also nominate an Auditor to perform the annual audit of the Society's finances. The report of the Nominating Committee shall be presented at the first regular meeting in May.

Section 3. The election shall be held at the regular June meeting. Other nominations may be accepted from the floor prior to the election. The consent of each nominee must have been obtained prior to his nomination.

Section 4. All officers and the Auditor shall be elected by a majority vote cast by ballot and/or voice vote.

Section 5. Officers shall be elected to serve for one term.

ARTICLE XI - MEETINGS.

Section 1. The Society shall meet in Prince George's County, Maryland, once each month in the period September to June, inclusive, on a day and place determined by the Council.

Section 2. A quorum at any meeting of the Society shall consist of ten members in good standing. Business shall be transacted only if a quorum is present. Motions shall be carried by a simple majority vote, except where these By-Laws provide otherwise.

Section 3. The rules contained in Roberts' Rules of Order Revised shall govern the Society in all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the By-Laws of the Society.

Section 4. At all regular meetings, the suggested order of business shall be as follows: (1) Introduction of guests, (2) Corrections of the minutes of the preceding meeting, (3) Report of the Council, (4) Report of the Secretary, (5) Report of the Treasurer, (6) Reports from Committee Chairmen, (7) Election of New Members, (8) Unfinished Business, (9) New Business, and (10) such lectures, instruction, exhibits, or entertainment as has been arranged by the Program Committee.

Section 5. The Auditor's report on the preceding year is due at the regular October meeting.

ARTICLE XII - AMENDMENTS. An amendment to these By-Laws may be made by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Society voting, such proposed amendment having been submitted to the Council in writing signed by at least five members, and the notice of such proposed amendment having been mailed or given to all members 7 days before the date of voting thereon.

ARTICLE XIII - PUBLICATIONS.

Section 1. The Society shall publish a monthly Bulletin (except in June and July), to promote the objectives of the Society.

Section 2. The minutes and corrections thereto, the annual Treasurer's report, the approved budget, and the annual audit shall appear in the Bulletin.

Section 3. The Nominating Committee report shall appear in the issue prior to the election.

Section 4. Other publications may be undertaken as approved by the Council.

ARTICLE XIV - BY-LAWS REVIEW. There shall be a review made of the By-Laws at least every five years.

ARTICLE XV - ADOPTION. These By-Laws become fully effective and binding on 1 July 1975, if adopted before that date. In the interim they shall be applicable insofar as practical. Where immediate implementation is impractical, the Council may authorize adherence to the previous By-Laws, except that the election provisions herein cannot be waived. This ARTICLE shall be deleted from the By-Laws after 1 July 1975.

Proposed By-Laws AUG 1974

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

With September almost here it is time to once more get down to the serious business of pursuing our ancestral research and to helping others.

Included in this issue are proposed by-laws, drafted by the By-laws Committee, for your consideration. If, after reading them, you have any questions, we have scheduled a discussion period during the September business meeting, so that all views will be heard.

I look forward to seeing all of you at the meeting.

MINUTES OF THE PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, September 4, 1974

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were introduced. Minutes of the last meeting were approved as published in the BULLETIN.

The Secretary gave her report on the mail received.

The Treasurer's report was given by President Barnes. The checking account has $151.31 and the savings account has $941.21.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Program Committee Chairman reported that Mrs. Florian Thayn will speak to the Society in October on "Records and Facilities of the Church of the Latter Day Saints of interest to Genealogists" and Mr. James Walker of the National Archives will speak to the membership at the November meeting.

Education Committee Chairman reminded everyone of the items for sale and to look over the materials on the committee's table.

Records Committee Chairman reported on the various projects. The status of the deeds has been slow and is about one-half completed; the work on the 1850 County census is progressing; and the bibliography of source materials is finished and has been turned over to Special Publications for consideration. The family register is still receiving family group sheets.

Library Committee Chairman was not present but the report was given by President Barnes, and the Committee still has funds available.

Membership Committee Chairman reported and presented five persons for membership. They were: Ruth Powless, Diane Spangler, Mary Gulbierz, Lois Wright and Blanch Shrader.

Publications Committee Chairman reported that 269 copies of the New Hampshire Genealogical Research Guide had been sold to date.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Bylaws Review Committee, chaired by Dr. Laird Towle, with committee members Shirley Wilcox, Donald Barnes, and Pat Paulkovitch, reported on the effects of the proposed new Bylaws. A discussion followed since a vote to accept the entire set of bylaws was defeated. Several motions were accepted by Chairman Towle.

The first four Articles were unchanged. Dr. Towle moved that they be accepted and Robert Ward seconded the motion. They were adopted.

Article V, dealing with membership and dues, was discussed, especially Section 8. Mr. Freeman Morgan suggested that if a life member was dropped from membership, that a part of his dues be refunded. Mr. Robert Ward moved that the word "overturn" be deleted and replaced with the word "uphold" in the last sentence of Section 8. Mrs. Kay Mayhew seconded it. It was accepted. Mrs. Kay Mayhew moved that the last sentence be changed by adding after the words "general membership" the following "are present and voting". Mr. Robert Ward seconded and the motion was accepted. Mr. Freeman Morgan moved that the word "written" be inserted following the words "within ninety days after". It was accepted. Mr. Robert Ward moved that the words "at a regular meeting of the Society" be inserted after the words "present and voting".

Article V, Section 8, now reads: "Any member may be dropped from membership in the Society for misconduct, or conduct prejudicial to the welfare of the Society by a vote of two-thirds of the Council. Such action may be appealed to the general membership by written petition within ninety days after written notification of the Council's action. A two-thirds vote of the general membership present and voting at a regular meeting of the Society shall be required to uphold the decision of the Council."

Article VI, dealing with Officers, was discussed. Mrs. Mayhew moved that Section 2 be amended to read, "All, except the Immediate Past President and the Committee Chairmen, shall be elected annually for a one-year term." Jess Brown seconded it. It was defeated.

Article VII, dealing with Duties of Officers, was discussed. Mr. Jess Brown moved that Section 5 concerning the Treasurer that the word "bank" be deleted and the words "financial institution" be inserted. It was accepted.

Articles VII and IX were discussed and were accepted. Article X, dealing with Nominations and Elections, was discussed. Mrs. Ann Lawrence moved that the words "Immediate Past President" be deleted in Section 1. Therefore the second and third sentences were deleted. Mrs. Mayhew moved that the words "three other" be deleted. It was accepted.

Mr. Robert Ward moved that, in Section 2, the words "at least one candidate" be inserted in place of the words "a candidate". Mr. Freeman Morgan seconded it and the motion was defeated.

Mr. Orville Russell moved to defer the discussion of the Bylaws until the next meeting to begin with discussion of Article X. Mr. Robert Ward seconded it.

NEW BUSINESS

President Barnes introduced Mr. Frank Mattison of the Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Mattison asked for help from the Society for assisting the Scouts on a new merit badge--genealogy. There is a booklet explaining the badge. The boys must go back four generations....President Barnes also reported on an article appearing in the July 29, 1974 issue of U.S. News & World Report entitled "Quest for Identity: Americans Go On a Genealogy Kick."

The program for the evening was a talk by Mr. W. Waverly Webb, retired Chief Clerk of the Circuit Court of Prince George's County.

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

Q. 16. I have traced my lineage back to James Lindsay, Jr. I assume he was a son of James, Sr. But the will of James, Sr., clearly shows that he died unmarried and left his estate to his sisters and brothers. I'm stumped. Please help me. (P.W.)

A. "Junior" then denoted "younger," and signified only that of two men with the same name in town, he was the younger. You are wrong to assume that he was a son of James, Sr. Look for a will in which a son James Lindsay is mentioned.

MINUTES OF THE PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, October 2, 1974

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were introduced. The September minutes were approved as published in the BULLETIN. President Barnes announced that at the Council meeting it was decided to have membership cards printed with the County's seal and a place for the President's signature.

The Secretary gave her report on the mail received. A woman had written asking about a book on Prince George's County. The book referred to is Louise Hinton's "Prince George's Heritage".

The Treasurer's report was given by President Barnes. The checking account has $170.61 and the savings account has $941.21.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

The program for November would be a talk on "Little Used Genealogical Sources at the National Archives and the Federal Records Center" by James D. Walker of the National Archives.

Education Committee Chairman reported that there were Beginners Kits available. She also reminded the members of the Surname File Box containing 3x5 index cards with surnames of families that members were working on. Members and non-members may submit cards.

Records Committee Chairman reported that the projects were progressing.

Publications Committee Chairman reported that the New Hampshire Historical Society had requested 20 additional copies of the New Hampshire Genealogical Research Guide. 295 copies of the Guide have been sold to date by our Society. The chairman would like to know of any publications not already represented in the Society's collection that members would like to see to contact her.

Membership Committee Chairman announced two members for election to membership. They are: Ruth P. Etheridge and Christine A. Hill. They were elected.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A continuation of the discussion of the proposed Bylaws followed. Articles X through Article XV were read, and voted on. They were accepted.

The Librarian gave her report. She wanted to know if there were any geographical areas not covered by current exchanges that members were interested in, and if so, to let her know which ones.

NEW BUSINESS

President Barnes announced that the Treasurer, Mr. Charles Reams, had resigned and that Lorraine VanTassel would be the new Treasurer.

A Nominating Committee with Mrs. Shirley Wilcox serving as chairman was appointed. The members would be Pat Paulkovitch, Laird Towle, and Sue O'Malley.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dr. Laird Towle announced that he had information on the Boy Scouts' Genealogical Merit Badge...Mrs. Olive Jones announced that the Maryland State Library had the original copies of the Maryland 1880 census...Dr. Towle had a letter regarding a query on a John More who died in Maryland ca. 1754. Anyone interested should write to Mrs. Cecile M. Fluharty, 21 Carolina Ave., Lockport, NY 14904.

The program for the evening was presented by Mrs. Florian Thayne of the Church of Latter-Day Saints in Silver Spring, Md. Her topic was "Records and Facilities of the Church of LDS Library of interest to Genealogists." The hours of the library are: 9:30am-5:00pm Mon., Wed., and Sat.; 7:00-10:00pm Tues., Wed., and Thurs.

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

BOOK REVIEWS BY Shirley Langdon Wilcox, C.G.

John "D" Stemmons, The United States Census Compendium. The Everton Publishers, Inc., Logan UT. Purchased by the Society.

There is nothing more frustrating to a genealogist than to spend hours reading through a census only to find later that it had already been indexed or abstracted and to realize that if he had consulted the published record he could have saved himself many hours of research time. For that reason, this is a very important reference tool. Previous listings of census records in print were not nearly as comprehensive.

The book is arranged by state and by county. Included along with the listing of census publications are other documents that can be used in place of a census such as tax lists, petitions, oaths of allegiance, etc. The source of the document is coded and by referring to the bibliography one can find the name and address of the individual or organization that compiled the data. The dates of county formations and the date the state was admitted to the union are given in the text. Another useful aid is a series of maps showing the evolution of the states and territories from 1790 to 1900.

E. Kay Kirkham, A Survey of American Church Records. Vol. 1. Everton Publishers, Inc., Logan UT 1971. 3rd Ed. Purchased by the Society.

Since church records precede the civil registration of vital records, it is extremely important to be able to locate the repositories of the records. This volume covers the Baptist, Catholic, Church of England, Congregationalist, Lutheran, Methodist, Moravian, Presbyterian and Society of Friends denominations and lists the records which may be found in archival publications. No attempt was made to list church records still in the custody of individual churches or to evaluate the records surveyed.

A brief history and bibliography of each denomination is given followed by a survey of the records by states. Under state headings are the counties and names of specific churches and their location by city. Also included are notations as to the kind of record, the years included and the repository for the records. The survey includes records, for the most part, only up to the time of the Civil War. A bibliography of church records by state is also given. At the end of the book is a very helpful glossary of religious words and terms.

The reader is advised that the listings are by no means complete. (The introduction to the Mass. section reads "...this survey makes no attempt to list all of the church records available. The larger and more important historical societies have issued their own bulletins regarding their holdings...") The reader should also be aware that copies of the records included in the survey may also be available at locations other than those cited. It would be an impossibility to list all church records available; however, much is covered in this one volume. It certainly should be consulted if one is searching in the time period or states covered.

Val D. Greenwood, The Researcher's Guide to American Genealogy. (c1973) Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc., Baltimore. $10.00. A Gift from the Publisher.

This volume is by far the most comprehensive book on genealogical records research in existence. There are many good books for beginning genealogists, but this is the first one to come along that covered such a wide range of subjects in depth. It is divided into two parts; the first part titled "Background to Research" deals with the basic principles of genealogical research. Part II, "Records and Their Use," makes up the bulk of the text and it is this part that is so unique for its depth. Topics discussed include compiled sources and newspapers, vital records, census returns, probate records and legal terminology, wills and intestate records, land records, court records, church records, immigration records, military records, cemetery and burial records, and Canadian research.

Many chapters contain facsimilies of the records being discussed, short glossaries of terms, lists of custodians by state of a particular type of record, etc. My only criticism is that several of the records which were reproduced are difficult to read. The passenger list index cards, for instance, are almost impossible to read. It would have been much better to have enlarged just one card that could easily have been read. The muster roll card used as an example of the type of record found in the compiled service records at the National Archives is sufficiently large but is not clear. Perhaps a positive copy would have been better. But there is so much excellent material in this book that a few deficiencies can be overlooked.

There is no other textbook on American records to match this volume, EVERY GENEALOGIST SHOULD HAVE A COPY. If a beginning genealogist were to ask me to recommend just one book for purchase this is the book I would recommend. It will continue to be useful long after the researcher passes the beginning stage, for the intermediate and advanced students will also find it a handy reference tool.

Captain Jeremiah Baker Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Cecil County, Maryland, Marriage Licenses, 1777-1840. Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc. Baltimore MD. $5.00. Gift from the Publisher.

Listed in this book are approximately 4,000 marriages arranged chronologically from 23 July 1777 to 1 June 1840. The name of the groom, maiden name of the bride, and name of the minister, in most cases, is given. A complete index to brides and grooms is found at the end of the book. Those with Cecil County ancestors will be glad to see this book in print once again; it is an important addition to printed Maryland source records.

MINUTES OF THE PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, November 6, 1974

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were introduced. The October minutes were approved as published in the BULLETIN.

The Secretary gave her report. She reported on the Third Genealogical Forum held by the Associates of the National Archives on November 9th. The subject for the forum will be on Land Records--Some Sources. She also reported on the 1975 National Institute on Genealogical Research. The Institute's sessions are a three week course offered February 13-21 and July 7-25. She also read a letter from a woman in Kansas regarding a Jeremiah Sheriff/Shreves who was born in 1740 in Queen Anne's Parish, P.G.Co., who she can't place after 1788 when he left for Pennsylvania.

The new Treasurer, Mrs. Lorraine Van Tassel, gave a brief report, stating that the accounts were the same as last month: checking account-$170.61 and the savings account-$941.21.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Program Committee Chairman announced the program for December. Ms. Lorraine Johnson, with the League of Women Voters, will present a slide presentation "Then and Now" at the January meeting's speaker will be Mr. Lester J. Holschlag and he will talk about Genealogical Sources in Germany, with Westphalia as an example.

Education Committee Chairman reported that Beginners' Kits were again available. Several DAR booklets on how to search a family lineage were also available. She also announced that forms for ordering copies of Passenger Lists were available; the Lists are those of the National Archives. She also reminded members of the Surname File.

Records Committee Chairman reported on the progress of its various projects. The family register project is still growing and the deeds are slowly continuing. The 1850 P.G.County census was reported on by Orville Russell. His subcommittee is in need of members willing to help transcribe the census on to forms.

Special Publications Chairman Shirley Wilcox made a request for a typist to type the bibliography of Prince George's County Source Material.

Library Committee Chairman reported that she would help members looking for books, etc., on a topic or a geographical area.

Membership Committee Chairman reminded members of the posters to be placed in local stores, etc., concerning the Society's existence.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Shirley Wilcox, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, read the proposed slate of new society officers. They are: President-Donald Barnes, First Vice President-Freeman Morgan, Second Vice President-Jeanne Bornefeld, Secretary-Diane Spangler, Treasurer-Lorraine Van Tassel, Publications Com.-Kay Mayhew, Records Com.-Robert Ward, Education Com.-Sarah Fleming, and Auditor-Kay Newland.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Shirley Wilcox announced that from the Nov. '74 newsletter of the Conn.Soc. of Genealogists the following item appeared: the State Archives of Ill. will search the (Ill.) Federal census for 1850-1880 for 1 family per request at no cost. Just give the name and county, enclose a SASE to Mr. Wayne C. Temple, Sr. Archivist, Ill. State Archives, Records Div., Springfield, ILL. 62756. Allow 10 days for a reply.

The program for the evening was presented by Mr. James D. Walker, Genealogist Specialist with the Central Reference Div. of National Archives. He spoke on "Little Used Genealogical Sources at the National Archives and the Federal Administration Records Center."

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

MINUTES OF PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Wednesday, December 4, 1974

The meeting was called to order by President Barnes. Several guests were introduced. The November minutes were approved as published in the BULLETIN.

The Secretary gave her report. She read a letter from Mrs. Irvin C. Brown concerning the "Brown-Hinton Index to Naturalizations 1783-1904" that she and Mrs. T.E. Hinton had completed. It is housed at the Maryland Hall of Records.

The Treasurer reported that the checking account has $198.48 and the savings account has $941.21.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Program Committee Chairman reported that the January meeting speaker would be Mr. Lester J. Holschlag and he would speak on Genealogical Sources in Germany with Westphalia as an example.

The Education Committee Chairman reported that Beginners' Kits were available along with several DAR booklets "Is That Lineage Right?" which is available at cost--52¢.

Records Committee Chairman reported on his Committee's progress on the various projects. The abstracting of the County's deeds is completed and handed over to the Special Publications Committee. The transcribing of the County's 1850 Federal Census is still in progress and is being computerized. It is hoped that it will be published for the 1976 Bicentennial. The third project was a compilation of a Bibliography of County Source Material. It is done and handed over to the Special Publications Committee. A Family Register of P.G. County families up to 1900 was begun and now has over 130 group sheets.

Publications Committee Chairman requested assistance with the BULLETIN and announced that 308 copies of the New Hampshire Genealogical Guide have been sold to date.

Library Committee Chairman announced that Mr. James D. Walker donated to the Society three books on material at the National Archives. She also had a list of books at half price from the Maryland Historical Society.

Membership Committee Chairman announced that ancestor tables and biographical sketches are still wanted from those who have not submitted them.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A new member was elected to membership. New officers were elected for the January to June period. Laird Towle made the motion to accept the slate and Kay Mayhew seconded the motion. A new Secretary would have to be found as the new one is moving after the new year.

NEW BUSINESS

Barbara Dash suggested that the Society contribute toward the New England Historical & Genealogical Society's project of indexing the next 86 volumes of their Register.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mrs. Brooke presented 2 books on the St. Ignatius Catholic Church in Oxon Hill, Md. It has been chosen as an Historical Site....Laird Towle announced that he still had applications for Merit Badges on Genealogy from the Boy Scouts.

SHOW & TELL

Freeman Morgan showed 3 books he had available: Scotch-Irish, Irish, and German Family Research Made Simple. They are available at $3.00 each or 2 for $5.00....Robert Colcock showed a sheet of coins....Barbara Dash told of a trip to Old Plymouth and of the Society of the Descendants of Colonial Clergy...Shirley Wilcox told of a list of old letters that might aid the family researcher.

The program for the evening was presented by Mrs. Lorraine Johnson from the League of Women Voters. She showed a slide presentation entitled "Prince George's County--Then and Now".

Respectfully submitted,
Ann N. Brown, Secretary

Please remember to mention the review of a book you order, especially if you have seen the review in our BULLETIN. You will notice in the reviews that often these are review copies. Your mention of the book will increase our library.

Genealogical Notes of the Chamberlaine Family of Maryland, and the related families of Dyer, Earle, Goldsborow, Hammond, Hayward, Hollyday, Hughes, Lloyd, Neale, Nicols, Robins, Stockton and Tilghman. Compiled from records and manuscripts found among the papers of the late John Bozman Kerr, by Samuel Chamberlaine in 1881. With a new introduction by John Frazer, Jr., and a collection of family pictures with annotations. Polyanthos, Inc., Cottonport LA 71327. 99 pp. Indexed. $15.00. A Gift from the publisher.

Originally published in 1880-81, this genealogy has been reprinted with the addition of portraits, detailed notes and an index. John Frazer, Jr., who is responsible for the new material, states in the introduction that he was unable to find proof for some of the statements made about the earlier generations. Therefore, it is very important that the reader read the introduction carefully. The introduction also cites other references which contain material of use on the Chamberlaine family.

The first Chamberlaine to settle in America was Thomas (1658-1757). A copy of his portrait is found in the book. Thomas was married twice, the first time to Miss Ann Penketh, by whom he had five children, viz.: John, Thomas, Mary, Esther, and Samuel. His second wife was Miss Heyling, and he had three children by her, viz.: Richard, William, and Joseph. The bulk of the families discussed lived in the Eastern Shore area of Maryland. The index, which includes places as well as names, shows seven references to Prince George's County. Included are the surnames of Lowndes, West, Hollyday, Hall, and Kerr.

As was so often true of genealogies written in the nineteenth century, few sources are given. However, much valuable information is given from which the modern genealogist can derive clues.

One Man's Family by Olive Lewis Kolb, Wilfred V. Worland and Rev. T. Vincent Worland. (c1968) Edwards Brothers, Inc., Ann Arbor MI. $15.00. (Order from O. L. Kolb, R.R. 1, Box 280, W. Lafayette IN 47906.) A Gift from the authors.

We were pleased to receive a genealogy on an early family with roots in Prince George's County. The immigrant ancestor John Worland first appears in the records of Charles Co. MD in 1670 when he received land under the headright system. A warrant of 1672 shows he came to Maryland in 1662. The authors note he may be identical with the John Worland for whom William Jerry collected headrights in 1664 in Lower Norfolk Co., VA.

Apparently not until the third generation did Worlands appear in Prince George's Co. records. In the 1776 Census there were several by that name in Prince George's Co., including John Worland III whose line is carried out in this book. It is the authors' opinion that most of the Worlands left Maryland by 1812 and migrated to Kentucky. Though the family did not remain in Maryland long, they may have married in Kentucky, or elsewhere, to descendants of other Marylanders. For example, Thomas Livers Worland married in 1835 at Lexington KY to Mary Ann Blincoe, who was, according to the authors, a daughter of James Blincoe and Sarah Carroll, a descendant of Charles Carroll.

The early generations in particular, are referenced and the narrative portions are easy reading. The format and numbering system of the book are not standard but an explanatory page is included and it is not difficult to follow. A list of abbreviations is given and an index is included.

The Society wishes to thank Louise H. Brooke of Temple Hills MD for her most generous donation of two copies of the history of St. Ignatius Church in Oxon Hill MD on the occasion of their 125th Anniversary.

The Society wishes to thank Mr. James Walker of the National Archives for the following publications:

"Guide to Genealogical Records in the National Archives" GSA 1964

"National Archives Microfilm Publications" GSA 1974

"List of Record Groups of the National Archives and Record Service"
GSA 1973

We know these will be a welcome addition to our Society's Library.

To All Members:

As this year draws to a close, I think of what has been and what is to come in this next new year. You members are the Society. Therefore let me hear what you have to say about how you think and/or what you think we can do to aid our members in any way we can. Please state your recommendations on a slip of paper and give them to me at the meeting. I'll get them to the people who can give them some action.

Wishing you every good fortune in finding that lost ancestor in the coming new year, I am

Very truly yours,

Jeanne M. Bornefeld, Membership Committee Chairperson

Clara Aliene Cooke married John Hammond Tippet and to this union were born: Margaret Virginia Tippet, John Hammond Tippet Jr., Roscoe Ward Tippet, Elmer Hunt Tippet, Clara Eloise Tippet.

James Marvin Cooke Married Eva Oyler of Harrisburg and they had one son: James Marvin Cooke Jr.

Edyth Evelyn Cooke married Martin Gale Feaster and they had one son: Rexford Huffman Feaster.

Elmon Roscoe Cooke married Edith Zirkle and they have the following children:

Elizabeth Eleanor Cooke	Donald Gale Cooke
William Fillmore Cooke	Patricia Cooke
Adele Phylma Cooke

James Randolph Cook married after the death of Sarah. He married a widow, Mrs. Hunter with several children. John Thomas, his son, married the daughter of this widow.

In those days, stepmothers were not very popular and the children of the first wife gradually left home. After awhile, Samuel Fillmore went to Southern Maryland and met Bertha E. Ward, with whom he fell in love at first sight. In fact, he pointed her out at a picnic and said, "That is my future wife, of whom I dreamt a few nights ago." He sought an introduction and after a short courtship they came to Washington and were married.

Samuel F. Cooke was a very young man when his mother died but he says he remembers sitting on the foot of the bed when she was sick. It is believed that she died with tuberculosis. During the Civil War, Samuel F. spent a great deal of time in Alexandria and tells of how narrowly he escaped being a mascot while watching the troops drilling. His brother George was in the Federal Army and his stepbrothers were in the Confederate Army.

The Civil War was never discussed in the home of Samuel F. Cooke before the children and they were allowed to grow up without any prejudice against either side. I can now be grateful for that. My mother Bertha E. told of her mother feeding the soldiers of the Southern Army, and stories related to her by her mother.

Fort Henry was only a few miles from her home, near McKendree Church. My teacher Mr. William Carter Tippet was a Rebel and gave vent to his feelings, but it did not seem to influence us and we never felt the bitterness that some of our classmates felt.

The Cooke home served as the Townshend Post Office as well as a store. Samuel F. Cooke, Postmaster, was the only person who served in this office and was in the service for more than 50 years. He died May 20, 1937 at 5:10 a.m. and the Post Office was officially closed with the outgoing mail that day at 1:10 p.m.

The names Townshend, Ward, and Osborne signify the farms in that neighborhood and it is easily seen why the Post Office carried one name and the station another. The Ward farm belonged to my mother's family. It had been sold as two different farms.

When my father, Samuel F. Cooke, bought the property from Mr. Townshend, the little story and half building had been erected for two maiden ladies to keep a little store. He built a kitchen, which made two rooms downstairs and two half story rooms upstairs. As the family increased these quarters were terribly crowded and around 1900 he began to build two rooms to the side of the house; the first time these rooms were occupied was when my mother moved down into them after the birth of my youngest brother, Elmon, July 1901. These rooms became bedroom and parlor. In 1924 the roof over the store and the dining room was raised to a full story and a triple window was put in the parlor on the east side to make it into a bedroom, in order to bring my sister Edna, who had been in the Eudowood Sanitarium at Towson, Maryland, back home. She had moved to the country for a short time, as my mother had a broken arm and it was difficult to get nurses for the country.

In September she was moved back to Washington where Gale and Edith Feaster and Bertha and Samuel Cooke lived at 3517 Ninth St., N.W. She died November 21, 1924.

James Marvin Cooke died in Harrisburg, Pa. on July 25, 1925, after having moved there from Tucson, Arizona.

My mother died suddenly on December 29, 1925; this left the home with only my father and brother Elmon there and soon with only my father there. In 19__ the stairway was changed and the two rooms upstairs were made private.

After the death of my father the house was rented in January 1938 to Mr. and Mrs. J. Alton Summers, neighbors who had sold their farm but did not want to leave that neighborhood. What furniture was not disposed of was stored in the store and there are still some things on the shelves of the store that were placed there by my father as we have never thoroughly cleaned out the store. A new roof was put on in 1941.

Many good times were had in that home and on those three little acres. When a child, that three acres looked like a big world, probably because there was a woodland at the end of the lot and we could almost get lost in it. Too, there was a blacksmith's shop and stable on the place and the hayloft was another delightful place to play. We had a nice orchard, a very mean cow, Belle, who gave quantities of rich milk. It was so good that when we went to a neighbor's and happened to be served milk, we just could not drink it because it looked blue as compared to Belle's rich creamy milk. Most years we raised one or two pigs to be butchered in the fall, always chickens and usually a garden.

My mother was a wonderful manager and could cook some things as no one since has ever cooked and seasoned them. She cooked the best gingerbread, fried the rabbit better than any I have ever since tasted, cooked pumpkin brown and tasty in a black pot that had three short legs and fitted in the place of a stove lid, and fried corn cakes in a long cast iron griddle that fitted over two stove lids. She liked to read and could tell stories in such a charming manner that you lived them. I used to love to hear her sing two songs, "Long, Long Ago" and "In The Gloaming." They sounded as beautiful to me when she sang them as they did when the concert singers gave them as encores years later. She made beautiful lace and handwork and a little bit of it I have found and saved among other family things. One of her chief pleasures was raising beautiful flowers and under her love and care they grew beautifully. I never see a pansy but what I think of her. She enjoyed her flowers but shared them most generously with others.

Aunt Annie Cook's birthday was October 30th and my mother always protected the chrysanthemums from frost in order to send a nice box of them to Aunt Annie for her birthday. She mailed flowers to so many as well as to the sick or shutins in the neighborhood and at the church.

We attended either Cedarville M. E. Church or McKendree M. S. Church, whichever church had the Sunday school. I am so grateful to my parents that they took all of us to church, which was quite a jaunt in those days; travel was by horse and carriage and service was long. Crackers and cookies were always taken along to sustain the youngsters during the long services, and oh, how tired our legs would get dangling from those hard benches.

We are indebted to our parents for a Christian home and after we left that home, their prayers followed us. Family worship, morning and evening was a daily custom. When I hear a person say that it is impossible to have daily worship, I think of the difficulties my parents encountered, but it did not cause them to discontinue this custom. My mother always knelt near the kitchen stove to rescue the food from burning and seldom did a morning pass without someone coming in the store, which adjoined the dining room, but those persons always waited and respectfully listened until the devotions ended. Each child was presented with a Bible on his or her birthday when old enough to use one.

My father was very fond of children and played with us a great deal. In fact, my sister and I were such good ball players that when we went to school the oldest girls and boys let us play on their teams. In the country the girls and boys played together.

I cannot recall an Arbor Day but what my mother had some tree or shrub for each child to plant. My father taught us to see the beauty and wonder in an approaching storm and we could stand on the porch and watch the formation of the clouds and the vivid lightning until the storm broke or until the lightning began to strike nearby. Frequently when we have been traveling along the highway, he has recalled the words of the Psalmist.

I feel that no richer heritage could come to any family than came to us. That little plot of ground and home meant so much to my father that I hope it will stay in the family long after this generation has passed away.

I am unable to find the Family Bible of the Ward family, but I do know that my grandfather was Hezekiah Ward and was twice married. His first wife was Martha T. E. Huntt and I knew Uncles William and Walter Ward and Aunt Maggie Murray and Aunt Janie Martin. His second wife was Mary McDaniel. I know there were 5 boys and 3 girls that lived to be grown. The names of the boys were Riley, Benjamin, Wesley, George and Charles. I do not know in what order they came. Aunt Mollie married Morgan Huntt and she is still living and was 81 years old on August 17, 1942. My mother was born February 27, 1863 and died December 29, 1925. Aunt Dell married a widower, Thomas Upton, Beside Aunt Mollie Huntt, there is one uncle, Charles Ward, of the second marriage of Hezekiah Ward, still living.

With the above names, anyone interested in looking up the family tree may be able to trace the Cooke family back to the Mayflower. I should have talked with Uncle George Cooke before he passed away at the age of 93 in 1932. I have meant to ask Aunt Mollie Huntt about the Ward family, but it seems that when I am with her I forget about it. At any rate, each one of us should be proud of his or her heritage.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

The best gift is the gift which is needed and which is a pleasure and which continues to give pleasure throughout the year.

It seems therefore appropriate to thank those who are giving of their time and talent to the BULLETIN, the voice of your Society.

Marlene Towle assembles, staples, addresses, stamps and mails the BULLETIN. We welcome Karen Lowman and Olive Jones who are now helping with this job. Fred Bevenour writes all the queries and puts them in the neat order which appears every other month as the Query Page. In addition to her now expanded duties as Special Publications Editor, Shirley Wilcox has been conscientiously reviewing our library additions. We welcome the assistance in reviewing our exchange publications now covered by Ruth Powless and Eleanor Coyne. And the Membership Committee, in the person of Sue O'Malley, will be assisting the BULLETIN staff in the gathering of material for "Our Members" as well as helping the new members write up their Ancestor Tables.

Thank you.

Helen W. Brown writes that the Brown-Hienton Index to Naturalizations, containing approximately 24,000 names of all those who have been naturalized in Maryland from 1783 to 1904, has been completed and is on file at the Hall of Records at Annapolis. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Hienton spent two years gathering this material from the various counties in Maryland.
