What Is The Multimedia Master

The Multimedia Master is a powerful yet easy to use video, MIDI, WAV organizer and player.

SOME FEATURES

THE TOOLBAR

The toolbar has the option (by default) to always float on top of your other windows. This allows you to easily select entertainment while you work. Since most documents now allow you to include video and music (WAV) files in your documents. This can also be an easy way to sample your files. This feature will only be enhanced with future operating systems including Windows '95. Softlink Software will upgrade all its software packages to support this medium and will offer all users free upgrades at this time!

THE SCREEN MASTER

The Multimedia Master has a Windows screen saver which is shipped with (and optionally automatically installed). This file will allow you to play Video, WAV and/or MIDI files during your screen saver. Special disks are shipped with the registered version which contain original video presentations by professionals. Registered users also receive a special disk of obnoxious sounds. This set (five disks and growing...) is included free of charge to all registered users!

THE PLAYERS

We couldn't call it the Multimedia Master if it didn't master your multimedia devices. A player is available for your video (.AVI files), MIDI, WAV and CD. Each pop-up toolbar features context sensitive help to get you going. Each toolbar has the ability to float on top and has unique features not found in many other packages.

THE LIBRARY

Click on the button on any of the players which has a picture of records and you'll be shown the library for this device. The library is a convenient way to track what files are available for you to play. You can display all your files in a large listing box and select your favorite titles to be available for play. You can also select the files to play when your screen saver is active. To help you keep organized you can type in a short or long description for each file.

Customer Service

The WAV Window

The CD Window

The MIDI Window

The Video Player

The Video Player allows you to play AVI files. These can be downloaded from most online services. Each button on the player has specific functions. These are easily learned by using the quick help which is displayed when you highlight an item. This quick help can be turned off in the options screen.

When you first select the video player you will not have any files to play. You can click on the library button to select files to be shown in your active list. These will appear in the list box on the screen. They will be shown in the order you select them. However, during each session you can move your favorite titles to the top of the list by selecting the finger pointing upwards icon .

If you register we will send you a special set of disks with feature .AVI selected by professional film makers.

WAV Player

The WAV Player allows you to play any WAV sound files. These can be downloaded from most online services. Each button on the player has specific functions. These are easily learned by using the quick help which is displayed when you highlight an item. This quick help can be turned off in the options screen.

When you first select the WAV player you may not have any files to play. You can click on the library button to select files to be shown in your active list. These will appear in the list box on the screen. They will be shown in the order you select them. However, during each session you can move your favorite titles to the top of the list by selecting the finger pointing upwards icon .

MIDI Player

The MIDI Player allows you to play music files. Thousands of titles are available from most online services. Each button on the player has specific functions. These are easily learned by using the quick help which is displayed when you highlight an item. This quick help can be turned off in the options screen.

When you first select the MIDI player you may not have any files to play. You can click on the library button to select files to be shown in your active list. These will appear in the list box on the screen. They will be shown in the order you select them. However, during each session you can move your favorite titles to the top of the list by selecting the finger pointing upwards icon . This is especially useful for the MIDI players since your songs will be played in the order which they appear. You can even select a file more than once and add to your active titles to have them play more often.

CD Player

With all the MIDI and WAV files to play who has time for the traditional CD. But if you want to hear some non-computerized tunes you can use the CD player to handle most of the controls you'll ever need. Use the familiar stereo interface to control your selections. Look for enhanced features for the CD player in future releases!

Screen Master

The Screen Master is a separate software package included with the MultiMedia Master. It is a windows screen saver which will play your AVI, WAV and Video files as a screen saver!

If you enter the library for any of the controls you will see a special box which contains a selection for screen saver files. Just move the files you want played here by click on the ADD button pointing to this listing. The files will be played randomly when your screen saver is active.

You have the option to configure the screen saver through the Multimedia Master or from windows in the Desktop display. The Screen Master can be configured to run AVI, VIDEO or WAV files or none at all. You can also set a message to be displayed while you are away. The last option in this screen allows you to set the frequency in which these events will take place.

Note: If the screen saver is not selected you can copy the SCNMASTR.SCR file into your windows directory. You can then enter then run CONTROL.EXE (or click on the ICON) and choose desktop. The Screen Master will be listed as a screen saver. You can select it here and configure.

Softlink Software

Softlink Software is a small company located in New Jersey. This is the third major release by Tom Ens, the author of Multimedia Master.

His most recent release before this package is the popular Phone Master which was recently listed as a "Must-Have Shareware" package by Windows Magazine, special edition, Winter 1994. It was also called a "masterpiece of concise programming" by Windows Shareware Review.

We hope this package gives you a great deal of enjoyment. If you register you will receive free upgrades and a copy of all software written by Tom Ens. We'll also send you a disk set of titles not found anywhere else!
