 Adding a New Folder to the Toolbar

Folders are useful for grouping buttons that you use regularly, but maybe not every day.   Give your folder a name that identifies the program icons you want to keep in it. Drag icons from your desktop or from the toolbar to the new folder. Or right click on the folder and choose add a button.