ItraFind is a high speed professional Find File and Batch Filer utility that will find anything, anywhere on your system or network.

Using just scraps of information, UltraFind will search any mounted media; hard disks, SyQuests, CDs and Opticals (It will even search remote volumes over a modem using Apple Remote Access).

Whether you're looking for images, documents, fonts, sounds, filters, XTensions, programs or Email messages, UltraFind will get them for you at lightning speed. If you are searching for text, UltraFind will find documents by words, names, numbers, codes, keywords, captions, titles or authors etc., and will even cross-reference words with its built-in Thesaurus.

And it doesn't stop there. Once it has found the files you need, UltraFind will give detailed information on them, open, copy or move them across disks or the network, back up, re-label, or trash them.

Search result lists are sorted by name, size, kind or date, and can be exported as a Tab-separated text file. The program can even read files without opening them, or read files that you can't open because the application is missing or the document is damaged -and it can copy the text out.

Files found are displayed in a series of 3 listing windows (switched by pressing the spacebar), in which you can sort, and view hierarchical tree structure and pathways. File information can be displayed simply by moving the cursor over a file's icon. Search routines can be saved for repeated use.

To find out what UltraFind can do for you, please read the first few lines of the Help Manual (Quick Start), available by pressing your HELP key, or by selecting 'Help' from the File Menu. You can also print the Help Manual out.

This version runs native on Macintosh 68K and Power Macintosh 600 series.

INSTALLATION

We suggest you either put UltraFind into your Apple Menu, or drag it out onto your desktop and leave it in the bottom-left corner of your screen.

UltraFind contains it's own Command Key enabling you to call it up from within any application by pressing <Command-Option-F>. To enable the Command Key, select "Preferences" from the File Menu and click "Enable".

On some 24 Bit monitors UltraFind may require more memory to utilise it's off-screen G-World (with low memory it will use ordinary drawing routines which can give a slight screen flicker). To use the off-screen G-World and get a smoother screen display, increase UltraFind's memory to roughly 1400K.
