The Peirce Software Web Page
You can find more information about DeskPicture and other Peirce Software products (ShareDraw, Smoothie, AppSizer, and Peirce Print Tools) on the Peirce Software web site:

   http://www.peircesw.com/

You can always find the latest release of DeskPicture at the web site.

Another feature of the web site is DeskPicture of the Week. This web page adds new pictures every week or so. There is also an archive off all the previous pictures. This is a great place to find lots of very nice pictures perfect for your desktop - and if you have a picture you want to share, submit them for all to use.

Site License Information
Peirce Software offers a number of site license options for large sites and education users (classroom or lab licenses) of DeskPicture. See the web page for more information or send us email.
