

When the conversion is completed, you can play the movie and make changes if you wish. (See the main topic "Playing and Editing Movies" if you need help.)

The new movie is saved on disk as it is converted. You don't need to save again before closing unless you have made changes.