Open Medical Institute

The OMI was established in 2005 by the American Austrian Foundation, The Open Society Foundations and the Austrian Federal Ministry of Science, Research and Economy to unite all programs (Salzburg Medical Seminars, Medical Observerships, Satellite Symposia, and Visiting Professorships) under one name.

The Salzburg Medical Seminars, established in 1993, is a postgraduate medical education program founded by the American Austrian Foundation and physicians from Weill Medical College of Cornell University to bridge the knowledge gap between East and West, North and South.

Weill Cornell was joined by physicians from The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, The Hospital for Special Surgery, Duke University Medical Center, the Cleveland Clinic, Methodist Hospital and leading European centers. Faculty members travel to Salzburg and spend one week teaching young, English-speaking colleagues from more than 100 countries in transition, who would otherwise not have access to this type of education. All faculty serve pro bono.

START LECTURES PARTICIPANTS SNAPSHOTS ABOUT US

REPRODUCTIVE MEDICINE 2013

We are pleased to present a Seminar of the Open Medical Institute. This Seminar was held from 14 to 20 July 2013 at Schloss Arenberg, Salzburg, Austria and involved 13 faculty members from the Medical University of Vienna, Austria and the The Ronald O. Perleman & Claudia Cohen Center for Reproductive Medicine, New York, USA as well as 28 participants from 21 countries in Europe, Africa and Asia.

Administered and funded by the American Austrian Foundation, Open Society Foundations, the Austrian Federal Ministry of Science and Research and other donors, the Salzburg Medical Seminars have worked since 1993 to improve health care in the countries represented by updating knowledge and experience of physicians and fostering their growth as teachers and leaders in their societies.

These lectures provide an up-to-date review of the latest developments in Reproductive Medicine. We hope you will find this program useful.

If you have any comments or suggestions, please email us at: sbg.office@aaf.co.at
