

BLANKER

NAME BLANKER -Screen saver program.

SYNTAX

detach blanker [seconds]

USAGE

Blanker is used to automatically blank the screen after the specified amount of seconds has elapsed and there has been no activity on the machine. Blanking the screen saves the screen phosphor from overburning.

The seconds option of BLANKER sets the amount of time the program waits before blanking the screen. Pressing any key will restore the screen.

You can start the screen blanking immediately by pressing ALT and B simultanously. Blanker can be removed with pressing Control and F10 simultanously.

BUGS

There are no signon and signoff messages. It is impossible to change the keysequences required. The amount of screen groups to witch blanker registers itself cannot be given. These issues will be adressed in the next release.

Blanker does not monitor the PM-screen group. A separate PM-screen blanker is required in the near future.
