Main Menu

This window allows you to select images either by category (click on associated picture) or by artist's name.

Thumbnail Window

Selected images are shown as thumbnails. Double click on them to see the real pictures along with information about the artists. Due to different color settings, the colors of the thumbnails might be distorted. However, this does not affect the real-size pictures. They should always appear correct.

Slide Show

You can see the slide show of the selected group of images by clicking on the corresponding option in the Thumbnail window. The show can be either automatic with various time intervals or manual (you will have to press the Space bar every time you want to change the picture). Click on “Settings” during the show to set up your preferences.

Recommended System Settings

We recommend that your system settings are at least the following:
Pentium 120, 16MB of RAM, 15MB of free Hard Disc space, 800x600, 16-bit (thousands of colors) resolution.

Usage Restrictions

Use of this software and data carries certain restrictions as follows. All the images on this CD-ROM are copyrighted and may not be duplicated or distributed except as provided herein.

You may use the illustrations for non-profit or not-for-profit applications as long as:

NO illustration may be used, reproduced, or disseminated by any means, or stored in a database or retrieval system without prior written permission of the artist, for any purpose except as specifically provided herein.

No fee is charged for the finished product.

The finished product is not part of another product or service for which a fee is charged.

The illustration is not used in advertising for a for-profit product or service.

The copyright line adjacent to the illustration appears in the finished work.

If the illustration is used in a video sequence or multimedia presentation, the copyright line appears at the end of the presentation as follows:

(Some)illustration(s) Copyright 1997, (The Artist's Name)

Illustrations may be altered and/or colorized, however the copyright on the derivative work automatically becomes the sole property and copyright of the original artist.

Non-profit and not-for-profit use includes the following:

- Public and private school in class use;
- Use in newsletters which are distributed free to organization members;
- Posters and flyers publicizing benefit events;
- solicitations for contributions to charitable organizations;
- Religious organizations and churches;
- Personal and in-home use.

Please contact us for specific use if your non-profit use-type is not listed herein.

All license rights may be revoked upon notice by refunding the user's purchase price, not to exceed the product's MSRP.

Licensing for commercial and for-profit use is available by contacting the individual artist. You will find all their contact information on the disc. If you have trouble contacting the artist, you may write to the editor of this disc:

Jon Gustafson, Editor
Mountain Director
Association of Science Fiction Artists (ASFA)

621 East F Street
Moscow, ID 83843

Rates for commercial uses are quite reasonable, and custom illustration and animation services are also available.

This disc may be loaned by a public library or school library.
