

When it comes to plant linking, SEEING IS BELIEVING

This simple plant combo shows how simple plant linking can be. You could even remove one of the elements and the group would still work.

Royal Queen™ Purple iochroma (Iochroma cyaneum 'Purple Queen', Zones 9–11)

Bold purple blooms provide a starting point for plant linking.

'Big Blonde' coleus (Solenostemon scutellarioides 'Big Blonde', Zone 11)

Subtle purple veining links this plant to the iochroma, while yellow foliage establishes contrast.

Cabaret™ Purple calibrachoa (Calibrachoa Cabaret™ Purple, annual)

Too many purple blooms? Not when you add the subtle contrast of yellow throats.

Golden creeping Jenny (Lysimachia nummularia* 'Aurea', Zones 4–8)

There's room for more foliage. Golden leaves keep up the pattern.

Golden Moon™ torenia (Torenia Golden Moon™, annual)

Need more blooms? Yellow petals and purple throats provide repetition and contrast.
