10 hot plant varieties

Here are 10 hot new plant varieties to make your garden look extra stunning this season!

Slide 1 of 11

PowWow Echinacea

PowWow is an Echinacea with more manageable height (no fencing required) that produces lots of flowers on compact stems. Little to no maintenance is required for gardeners, as it tolerates dry growing conditions. Varieties include the rich, intense rose color of wild berry and a pure, clean white. Height: 16 to 20 in. first year. 22 to 24 in second year. Spread: 12 to 16 in. Full Sun.

Voltage Yellow Osteospermum

Here's an early, bright yellow osteo with a spreading habit that puts on a strong color show. It's the first osteo in bloom and the last osteo out of bloom! The full, mounded plants flower into the summer season and make great, high-color-impact hanging baskets. They're great for coastal markets.

Height: 10 to 16 in.
Spread: 24 to 28 in.
Full Sun.

Shock Wave Denim

Shock Wave's stand-out feature is the extreme proliferation of its petite flowers. Fast to recover after rain or watering, it looks great whether planted in the ground, in containers or hanging baskets, which leads to easy gardening success for amateur gardeners. Denim starts as a deep blue, then alters its color through the season, "fading" to blue-lavender silver -- just like your favorite pair of blue jeans!
 Height: 7 to 10 in.
 Spread: 2.5 to 3 ft.
 Full Sun.
