

Go HEALTH Foods

DRI president leads 2012 dairy charge to spotlight 'total nutrient package'

Posted on 21 January 2012 By Ben Bouckley

Reflecting on a successful last year in research terms, US Dairy Research Institute (DRI) president Gregory Miller told Dairy Reporter.com about the key challenges facing the industry in 2012.

We asked DRI president Gregory Miller what key challenges – both in terms of research and communication – he foresaw in 2012. Tune into our exclusive podcast to learn more...

Click here for online version.

For internal use only. Reprints available for purchase.