

PROGRESSIVE DAIRYMAN

Serving Dairymen Nationwide | January 21, 2013 | Vol. 27 No. 2

Carry on!

Son seeks dairy's sustainability.

PGs. 49-50

"The next round of dairy consultants will have MBAs and might come from New York City." PG. 66

Plus

Court was just the first stop

Read why the judicial system in California wouldn't help dairymen in their fight to change the state's milk price formulas and what may happen next. PG. 28

Don't feed manure to calves

New data confirms that contaminated colostrum impairs calf health. Is your colostrum touching too much bacteria? PG. 69

Are you prepared for visitors?

See what prompted regulatory agencies to visit these three dairy farms and what they learned from their experiences. PG. 38

Cow comfort from a hoof trimmer's perspective

Stall comfort and headlock use are the two major factors that one trimmer says most influence hoof health in his clients' herds. PG. 71