ABOUT “TOY STORY”

- Set in a world where toys have a life of their own when people are not present, “Toy Story” takes moviegoers on a fantastic fun-filled journey, viewed primarily through the eyes of two rival toys -- Woody (voice of Tom Hanks), a pull-string talking cowboy, and Buzz Lightyear (voice of Tim Allen), a superhero space action-figure. The comically-mismatched duo eventually learn to put aside their differences when circumstances separate them from their owner Andy and they find themselves on a hilarious adventure-filled mission where the only way they can survive is to form an uneasy alliance.

Walt Disney Pictures presents "Toy Story," A Pixar Production. The first animated feature to be created entirely using computer technology, "Toy Story" was produced in collaboration with Pixar, a Northern California-based pioneer in computer graphics, and directed by John Lasseter. Ralph Guggenheim and Bonnie Arnold were the producers with Edwin Catmull and Steven Jobs serving as executive producers. Based on an original story by Lasseter, Peter Docter, Andrew Stanton and Joe Ranft, the screenplay is by Joss Whedon, Andrew Stanton, Joel Cohen and Alec Sokolow. The supervising technical director is William Reeves. Renowned songwriter Randy Newman wrote and performed three new songs and composed the underscore.
