

LEGENDARY DESIGN TECHNOLOGIES, INC.

Legendary Design Technologies, Inc. has announced that "Family Connections™", a genealogy data manager for the Amiga family of computers, is now shipping. "Family Connections™" is capable of producing ahnentafel, pedigree, and descendancy reports and sports in an easy-to-use 2.x/3.x style user interface. The program also supports GEDCOM file format for importing and exporting data to and from most popular IBM and Macintosh genealogy programs. "Legendary plans to continue supporting the Amiga market by releasing new products like 'Family Connections™'. Many other exciting products are on the way," says Adam White, Vice-President of Legendary Design Technologies.

The product will retail for $39.95 U.S. ($49.95 Canadian) and is available and shipping now. You can learn more by contacting Legendary Design Technologies Inc., P.O. Box 1147, Lewiston, NY 14092-8147. In Canada: Legendary Design Technologies Inc., 25 Frontenac Avenue, Brantford, ON, CANADA N3R 3B7. Telephone (519) 753-6120, Fax: (519) 753-5052.

HUES MAGAZINE

Editor Vivian McAlexander has announced the new creation in Amiga art: "HUES Magazine". It is a "home-grown" production that is very personalized in nature. The magazine includes different forms of Amiga art. No monetary payment can be made to artists who wish to contribute to HUES, but the magazine does offer exposure of their artwork. There will be yearly art contests, the first of which will take place in October. The winners will be decided by HUES readers for unbiased voting. There have been three issues of HUES released, and it is a bimonthly publication. Each issue will be $3.00 in U.S. currency, and foreign costumers can send three blank disks with labels to pay for their issue. There are no subscriptions to HUES at the current moment.

USER GROUPS

Lamar Morgan announced the upcoming 10th anniversary of his user group, Amiga Atlanta, Inc., to be held this coming January. Mr. Morgan is the President of Amiga Atlanta Inc., and is extending an invitation to all Amiga developers who would like to go to Atlanta and join them for the occasion. The club normally meets on the second Saturday of every month at the Dunwoody Public Library, 5339 Chamblee-Dunwoody Rd. in Dunwoody, GA. The 10th anniversary should take place Saturday, January 13, 1996. You can contact Mr. Morgan via his e-mail address at: lamar@mindspring.com

ZIPPERWARE

Zipperware has announced the expansion of their company by a friendly takeover of Northwest Public Domain (NPD). This takeover became effective as of July 1, 1995. Christopher Maland, owner of Zipperware, promises to continue providing the excellent support and service faithful customers have come to expect from NPD. "We would like to wish John McNab, owner of NPD, success with his new ventures now and in the future," says Mr. Maland.

EXPANSION SYSTEMS

Expansion Systems announced the release of the HIGHFLYER expansion chassis designed for the Toaster 4000 user that would like to make use of all four Zorro III and two powered PC slots with the Toaster installed. The HIGHFLYER can be used with the Flyer Editing System from Newtek. In addition to the extra slots it also provides an extra venting fan and room for the Video A and B 3.5x1.7 inch editing drives. The Audio drive is placed in an A4000 bay. The HIGHFLYER can be installed in just minutes with the use of a screwdriver, to allow for easy installation, and all signal lines are as short as possible and inside the confines of the chassis.

SMITH DISKS

The Smith Disks Public Domain Collection now numbers over 700 disks containing over 10,000 files. They now offer custom disks of Customer selected files for $5.00 per disk. Their Catalog Disk is only $2.50. All disks are post paid. Smith Disks, 3835 E. Ashlan, Fresno, CA 93726.