

Upgrading to 4.1???

In order to accomodate the 5th page of menu items, chez O' has had to change its internal numbering scheme. The net result is that when you start the new version of CO, the 10 items which used to appear at the top of the screen as iconic buttons have moved to the fifth page! The quick solution is to use Shift+drag to move the items from page 5 to the icon bar. The other anomaly is that the logo information has also moved to page 5. You can't drag and drop to the logo, so you'll have to right click on the logo area and browse or enter the info manually.

I'm sorry for this inconvenience, but I think the other changes are worth the trouble.
