Click the $\underline{\textbf{T}\textbf{oday}}$ button to show just the reminders for today.

Click the $\underline{\mathbf{W}}$ hole Database button to view all your reminders (past and present).

Click the Bold checkbox to bold the text in the reminder list.

Click the Large checkbox to increase the size of the font in the reminder list.

#Days indicates the number of days before or after the current date that the reminder is/was set for. For instance, "(1)" was due yesterday, "----" was due today, and "1" is due tomorrow.

Date displays the calendar day the reminder was set for.

Alarm displays the time the alarm was set for that reminder.

Ntc displays the number of days notice you get in advance of the reminder's due date. For instance, 7 means that you'll start seeing the reminder 7 days in advance.

Nag displays important reminders that will remain in the box until you delete it.

Freq displays the frequency in which the reminder is displayed. For example, a birthday would be displayed as "1 yr" where a mortgage payment would be displayed as "1 mo".

Reminder displays the reminder text that you entered on the "Add a reminder" screen.

Click Cycle to move the reminder forward by the frequency it is set to. For instance, cycling a birthday on June 16, 1996 would reset the reminder to June 16, 1997.

Click Add to add a reminder using the Add a reminder screen. (You can also perform this function by simply pressing the Insert key.)

Click Edit to change a reminder using the Edit a reminder screen. You must first select a row prior to clicking the Edit button. (You can also perform this function by simply pressing the Enter or Return key.)

Click Delete to remove a reminder. You must first select a row prior to clicking the Delete button. (You can also perform this function by simply pressing the Delete key.)

Enter the reminder text.

Use the $\underline{\textbf{R}eminder}$ Text box to enter your reminder descriptions.

Enter reminder Begin date (F3=today, F4=show calendar). Use the left/right arrows, then the up/down arrows --or just start typing.

Click inside the End check box prior to entering the reminder expiration date (F3=today, F4=show calendar). Use the left/right arrows, then the up/down arrows --or just start typing. The default date is also the current date.

Enter the number of days in advance you want to see a reminder in the Advance Notice spin box

Click Mag to nag yourself about important reminders. When Mag is checked, this indicates that the reminder will remain in the main listbox until you delete it.

Click inside the Alarm check box prior to entering the time the alarm should sound (F2=clear, F3=current time). Use the left/right arrows, then the up/down arrows --or just start typing. When you enter an alarm time, another checkbox appears titled Hide Today. If you check this, the alarm will not appear on the main list if you are looking at the Today reminders. This allows you to have lots of alarms without having them clutter up the main list.

Click the $\underline{\mathbf{O}} \textbf{ne-time only}$ button if you do not want the reminder to be repeated

Click the Every button if you want the reminder to be repeated.

Enter the number of periods between each occurrence using the spin box.

Select the frequency type using the pull-down (days, weeks, months or years). This will indicate how often the reminder will occur. You will also notice that check boxes may appear below the selection box. This will enable you to set the day of the week rather than a specific date. For instance, "First Monday in August" instead of August 1.

Click the $\underline{\mathbf{O}}\mathbf{K}$ button to exit this screen and save your changes.

Click $\underline{\textbf{C}}\textbf{ancel}$ to exit this screen without saving your changes.
