1.2 INSTALLATION, REQUIREMENTS & TESTED

This datatype is tested on a Amiga 4000 with Kickstart 3.1, but it should run on all machines with Kickstart 3.0 and above. Only 32Bit Prozessors (≥ 68020) are supported!.

To install just copy the files

SampleVision

SampleVision.info

to the drawer

sys:devs/datatypes

and the file

SampleVision.datatype

to the drawer

sys:classes/datatypes

and reboot your machine.

1.3 Sample Vision Fileformat Information

Sample Vision is a special file format used by a tool on MS-DOS computers. It stores always mono samples in 16 Bit and can include 8 looppoints and markers.

File Extension : #?.smp (not checked by datatype)

Magic Number : "SOUND SAMPLE DATA 2.1 " (checked by datatype)

1.4 Features & TODO

FEATURES

- *Decode Sample Vision file format to 8 bit sample data
- *Extracts name of sample if present and uses this name for the objects name
- *Normalizes the 8bit data (which is much quicker)

METHODS

- *OM_New to read from file

TODO

(near future)

- *Normalize the 16 bit data for better quality (but is much slower)
- *Looppoint extraction
- *Low memory detection & low memory conversion (maybe)
- *Implement other methods (Write)
- *Prefs and shared library for conversion & general behaviour of sound data-types, based on a sound support library wich can convert and process sample data. (Feel free to contact me for suggestions and help offers)

OTHER DATATYPE PROJECTS

- Maud (also released)
- MIDI Sample Dump Standard (on work)
- Yamaha TX16W Sampler File (also released)
