POSTCARDWARE

-----

All the doors included in this archive are PostCardWare
If you use one of included doors, you are kindly asked to send a postcard of the area you live in to :

Peter Smets (FRaNKy / PTL)
Weldadigheidsstraat 45
3000 Leuven
Belgium

Postcards received so far : Lady An [ UK ]
Killer Dwarf [ Sweden ]

COMPILED DOORS

-----

All doors in this archive are compiled using the RexxPlus Arexx Compiler.

To get the doors to work on you /X system, you must run RPStart and have the libraries included in the archive copied to your LIBS:
It is advisable to put RPStart in you User-Startup so you won't forget it

If you would like a copy of the uncompiled sources of the doors included in this archive, send 1500 BEF (50 USD) to the author of the doors.
Cash money (no coins) or EuroCheque in BEF only please.

This can be a large amount of money, but if you see what money I spend in my doors (time, phonecalls) and if you really want the sources to study them, this isn't too much I think...

The adress where you can send the money to can be found under

```
postcardware
  button...
```

Note :

Compiled doors do not work on all systems (blame the /X REXXPort for this) but the advantage for me is much greater.

I decided to do this compilation of my doors because I noticed that more and more people started using pieces of my doors, or sometimes just renaming the door and then releasing it under their own name/group.

If you want you can buy the sources as staded above.

FRaNKy.

1.5 what

WHAT IS IT ?

Simple Wall is (as the name says) a wall door for the /X 2.xx and up
Bulleting Board Program

1.6 inst

INSTALLATION

The files SWALL.#? should be placed in the directory "Doors:PTL/SWall/"
The icon (Wall.info) should be in "BBS:Commands/BBSCMD"

The add the door to your Logon-sequence by adding '~CC_WALL' to the file
'NodeX/bull.txt' (where X is the node number)

1.7 conf

CONFIGURATION

You must edit the file "Doors:PTL/SWall/Swall.cfg"
The file must be edited like this :

```
Line 1 : Password needed to access the maintainance menu
Line 2 : Person who can access the maintainance menu
Line 3 : Person who can access the maintainance menu
Line 4 : ....
```

Example :

-----

superimperialstardestroyer

---

```

da cool one
da slave
da superslave
-----

```

HISTORY

-----
... - 0.9 : Internal Beta Releases
      1.0 : First Worldwide Release
      1.1 : - Sysop does not have to be in the cfg-file
            anymore to have acces to the maintenance
            - You can now edit the wall
            - You stay in the maintainance menu untill
              you press <ENTER>
            - Added a second logo
            - Interl source updates
      1.2 : - Added ANSI-animation for fast connects
            - Improved the centering of the wall-line
            - Added a Maintainance-Logile
            - Deletion of Logfiles and Wall-Reset
              now asks for a confirmation
            - Added a
Twitlist
            - Everyone can access the ←
              maintainance menu
            now as long as he is in the
cfg-file
and
```

knows the password

1.13 twit

TWITLIST

If, for some reason, you don't want a certain user to write on the wall, add his name to the twitlist (you can do this from maintainance ).

The name is case-insensitive but the name has to be exactly the same for all other ASCII-chars (example : user^bla - don't forget the ^)

THE STORY OFF

-----

This door is currently the most developed I ever made (untill Piss-O-Rama will be updated that is).

I started this door because I wanted a wall where I could write anonymously on but didn't find one...

Once the mail wall was finished the shell around went quickly so I guess that coding the wall to an 1.0 took me about 3-4 days. Again I changed the config-file 2 times but in this way I really like it so it'll stay this way.
