Collaggi
PALETTE

Palette is the first in a line of modular, interactive database publishing products currently under development by GS Corporation's Collaggi Software Division. Collaggi Palette is a personal productivity application which makes it easy to organize files, document elements, and applications by frequency of use or by project. Just drag-and-drop TIFF/EPS files, clip-art, logos, e-mail addresses, document rulers, document templates, and other files onto Collaggi Palette. When needed, users can simply drag-and-drop data or document elements from Collaggi Palette into their e-mail messages, reports, and other documents – no need to retype or recreate document elements which are used often. Collaggi Palette has a suggested list price of $199 and is a Multiple Architecture Binary application. Site licenses are available.
