Many of the applications on this CD-ROM run directly from the CD-ROM, although you may not be able to save applications or save reconfigure options (you can't change the contents of a CD-ROM). Some applications may need to be placed on your hard drive .

Some applications want to write a configuration file or a high score file to disk.
Since it is not possible to write information to a CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only Memory) any changes you make to the a game's configuration will have to be done each time you play the game. To overcome this, you will have to copy the applications to your hard disk or to a floppy.
