This is an extremely simple JPEGView 3.2 script that simply launches a slide show of any images dropped on it.   Note that all slide show options are explicitly set; if you want different options, change them.   Original script by Aaron Giles.