

Sheet1

WORD,C,16DEFINITION,C,250

notice	warning or indication of something; announcement
famous	much talked about, very well-known
future	coming after the present; what is going to happen
adoption	the taking as one's own; formal acceptance
legal	of or relating to laws or lawyers; based on a law; permitted by law
alert	being watchful and ready to meet danger; quick to understand and act
superb	outstandingly impressive, excellent, or beautiful negotiate	to discuss with another so as to arrive at an agreement
trivial	ordinary, commonplace, of little importance
defense	the act of repelling danger or attack
career	full speed or activity; profession followed as a permanent occupation
agile	able to move quickly and easily; mentally quick rival	one of two or more trying to get what only one can have propitiate	to gain or regain the favor or goodwill of emigrate	to leave a country or region to live elsewhere
foliage	the mass of leaves of a plant
precipitate	to throw violently; to bring about suddenly cultivate	to prepare land for the raising of crops; to improve or develop by study
sober	sparing especially in food or drink; having a serious attitude
rotation	a doing of something in turn

Sheet1

SENTENCE,C,80

The newspaper gave the townspeople @ of the coming elections.

That @ document is known throughout history as the Declaration of Independence.

The Pilgrims came to America hoping for a better @.

The new bill was presented to the legislature for @.

Before it could be accepted, the new law had to satisfy all @ requirements.

After a quick nap, the guard was rested and @.

Winning the contest was a @ accomplishment, and one to be proud of.

The ambassador had to @ long and hard for the release of the prisoners.

Although John Adams was capable of more, he spent his time solving @ problems.

John Adams quickly came to the @ of any he thought were being treated unfairly.

His @ was unusual, since he did not achieve the honors he should have.

He had an @ mind, and it was difficult to win an argument against him.

The president's principal @ was Thomas Jefferson.

They sent a basket of fruit and chocolate, trying to @ the insulted aunt.

In the next centuries, many would try to @ to the United States.

The branches of the tree were covered in thick, green @.

The disagreement only served to @ the inevitable separation.

The early settlers decided to @ the new land they found.

He was a quiet man, of @ habits.

They established a @ of offices, so no one was overburdened.