

ere is the second volume of Desktop Textures in my Nocturnal Emissions series. I recieved some encouraging mail from people who looked at the first volume...thanks to all of you who wrote and I hope you enjoy this volume as much as the first.

I have noticed quite a few people are creating their own Textures and they are kind enough to upload them...they were my inspiration.

Thanks to everyone who uploads their creations.

When distributing the Texture collection please include this Read Me document.

Disclaimer Crap

Just in case these Textures burn up your Mac, not that they will, I'm supposed to say:

"I cannot be held responsible for any mishaps caused by the contents of this file or any other files within its folder."

-So there!
Enjoy.
