Sir Rah Productions Software License Agreement.

Please read this agreement thoroughly.

You may use the Registered Anthem program on one computer system at one time only.

If you wish to use the Anthem program on more than one computer system at one time, you must purchase a new and separate License from Sir Rah Productions for each additional computer system (each user must purchase their own copy).

For example, you can place the registered Anthem program on your office computer and also your home computer. However, if you are using a registered copy of Anthem on your office computer, and someone else is using a registered copy on your home computer, you must purchase two copies of Anthem because two copies of Anthem are being used at the same time. If you have any questions, please contact Sir Rah Productions.

You may not give the registered Anthem program to other people.

You may not reverse engineer, disassemble, reverse translate, or in any manner decode the Anthem program in order to derive any source code form.

You agree never to remove any such notices and product identification.

In addition, Sir Rah Productions will not be liable for any claim by you or any other party for damages arising out of the use of this program.
