

Fish Tail Shore was named for its natural shape. Over the ages, sand deposits have built up from both sides of the point creating a natural harbor. This campsite is located on the north side of the reservoir.