

Installing For Network Use:

Alert! can also be used from one machine on a network to diagnose any other machine on the network. This might be useful for a network manager to handle a problem somewhere else on the network without physically going to that machine. This feature is only supported when both machines are running System 7.

Diagnosing another machine on the network is very simple, but does require some additional installation and setup.