

ncluding all the regular material and much more,
ssue 8 shouldn't be missed.

ditor: Andrew Duckworth
E-mail: andy@duxx.demon.co.uk
WWW: <http://www02.talk-101.com/arnsch/core/core.htm>
Snail Mail: CORE! 188, Bispham Road, Blackpool, Lancs. FY2 OLA. England.

CORE! always welcomes your contributions. If you have something to add e-mail CORE! with it and we'll consider it for publication.

- Send review submissions to the snail mail address above.

he latest issue of CORE! is posted to our Web Site as soon as it is completed.

eel free to upload CORE! onto any online service you feel suitable but please let us know where you have uploaded it onto.

f you would like to be notified when the latest issue is available to download, please send an e-mail stating so to the above address.

ORE! is an independent publication not affiliated or otherwise associated with or sponsored or sanctioned by Apple Computer, Inc.®. The opinions, statements, positions and views stated herein are those of the author(s) and are not intended to be the opinions, statements, positions or views of Apple Computer. Because we discuss and describe computers, hardware and software, we wish to make it clear that most, if not all product names are legally protected trademarks of the companies that make the products.