LICENCE

Noncommercial distribution and/or use is permitted under the following terms:

1)   You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Maximus source, documentation, and executable code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy a valid copyright notice "Copyright 1991 by Scott J. Dudley"; keep intact the notices on all files that refer to this Licence Agreement and to the absence of any warranty;   PROVIDE UNMODIFIED COPIES OF THE DOCUMENTATION AS PROVIDED WITH THE PROGRAM; and give any other recipients of the Maximus program a copy of this Licence Agreement along with the program. You may charge a distribution fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, but no more than is necessary to recover your actual costs incurred in the transfer. Under no circumstances is Maximus to be distributed in such a way as to be construed as "value added" in a sales transaction, such as, but not limited to, software bundled with a modem or CD-ROM software collections, without the prior written consent of the author.

2)   You may modify your copy or copies of Maximus or any portion of it, and copy and distribute such modifications under the terms of Paragraph 1 above, provided that you also do the following:

     a) cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change;

     b) cause the executable code of such modified version to clearly identify itself as such in the course of its normal operation;

     c) if the modified version is not a "port", but operates in the same hardware and/or software environment as the original distribution, make the original version equally available, clearly identifying same as the original, unmodified version;

     d) cause the whole of any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is a derivative of Maximus or any part thereof, to be licensed at no charge to all third parties on terms identical to those contained in this Licence Agreement (except that you may choose to grant more extensive warranty protection to some or all third parties, at your option); and:

e) send the complete source code modifications to Scott Dudley at the addresses listed below, for the purpose of evaluation for inclusion in future releases of Maximus. Should your source code be included in Maximus, Scott Dudley retains all rights for redistribution of the code as part of Maximus and all derivative works, with appropriate credit given to the author of the modification;

f) You may charge a distribution fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, but no more than is necessary to recover your actual costs incurred in the transfer, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee;

g) when distributing modified versions of Maximus, you must not change the name of the program or the official version number, except to append an identifier which indicates that modifications have been made. For ports to other operating systems, the following convention must be followed:

    Maximus v<v>.<os>.R<r>

...where <v> is the official Maximus version number, <os> is the name of the operating system which the port runs under, and <r> (optional) is the OS-specific revision number. For example, the second OS/2 revision of Maximus 1.02 must have a version string in this format: `Maximus v1.02.OS/2.R2'

Similarly, modifications to Maximus which are designed to run under MS-DOS must also follow a naming convention. The version string must read:

    Maximus v<v>..<r>

where <v> is the official Maximus version number,  is three initials (indicating your first, middle and last names), and <r> (optional) is the revision number of your modifications.

For example, a version of Maximus 2.00 modified by Joe T. SysOp must have a version string in this format: `Maximus v2.00.jts.1'

3) Mere aggregation of another unrelated program with this program and documentation (or derivative works) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other program under the scope of these terms.

4) You may copy and distribute Maximus and its associated documentation (or a portion or derivative of it, under Paragraph 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Paragraphs 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

a) accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Paragraphs 1 and 2 above; or,

b) accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party free (except for a nominal shipping charge) a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Paragraphs 1 and 2 above; or,

c) accompany it with the information you received as to where the corresponding source code may be obtained. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code or executable form alone.)

For an executable file, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains; but, as a special exception, it need not include source code for modules which are standard libraries that accompany the operating system on which the executable file runs.

5) You may not copy, sublicense, distribute or transfer Maximus and its associated documentation except as expressly provided under this Licence Agreement. Any attempt otherwise to copy, sublicense, distribute or transfer Maximus is void and your rights to use the program under this Licence agreement shall be automatically terminated.

However, parties who have received computer software programs from you with this Licence Agreement will not have their licences terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance, and notify Scott Dudley of their intention to comply with this Agreement.

6) You may not incorporate parts of Maximus into a program which is NOT completely free for ALL users. If you wish to use Maximus in such a way, you must obtain written permission from Scott Dudley before using any of the Maximus code.

7) You may not incorporate parts of Maximus into a FUNCTIONALLY SIMILAR program, including other bulletin board packages or tossers/scanners. If you are writing another BBS or remote host package, you must contact Scott Dudley before using any of the Maximus code.

8) The privileges granted above apply only to noncommercial users of the Maximus software. You are a NONCOMMERCIAL user only if you are running Maximus a private individual with no "sponsors", "backers", and only if your BBS is not making (or helping to make) a profit. You are a COMMERCIAL user if you make a profit from running your BBS. You are also a COMMERCIAL user if your BBS is being run by (or for) any corporation, government, company, foundation, church, school, or any other organization You are also a COMMERCIAL user if your system is used to advertise such a commercial organization for the purposes of making a profit.

This licence only governs NONCOMMERCIAL users. If you are a COMMERCIAL user, you are not licensed to use or distribute this software without the prior written consent of Scott Dudley.   If you wish to run Maximus as a commercial user, please see the section below on site licences.

9)   This licence may be revoked by Scott Dudley without prior notice.
