Contents

The following help topics are avalaible :

Type of installation

In this dialog, you can choose the type of installation desired.

You can choose the type of installation desired by clicking its "radio button".

Two installation types are available : Solution-Pac Installation and Solution-Pac WAN Installation. Apart from the short description of each type of installation, you will find more details by clicking the "Details..." buttons.

Button "< Previous" goes back to dialog of language choice.

Button "Next >" continues selected installation (quick or full).

Button "Quit" exits SETUP program.

Solution-Pac Installation

In this dialog, you can choose the target operating system and installation directory for Solution-Pac Installation.

Choose the desired target operating system by clicking its "radio button", and then if necessary, modify the default installation directory.
Required and available disk space on installation disk is displayed.

Button "< Previous" goes back to dialog of type of installation.

Button "Next >" continues starts quick installation.

Button "Quit" exits SETUP program.

Solution-Pac WAN Installation

In this dialog, you can choose components to install and, for each of them, the target operating system and installation directory.

Choose a component by checking its check-box, select the desired target operating system in the list, and then if necessary, modify the default installation directory.
Required and available disk space on each installation disk is displayed.

For each component and target operating system, you will find more details by clicking the "Details..." button.

Button "< Previous" goes back to dialog of type of installation.

Button "Next >" continues starts installation of selected components.

Button "Quit" exits SETUP program.