This is a preliminary release of the Clysmic Lunar Almanack for Windows. More complete documentation will accompany the version 1.00 release.

This program displays the Moon's phase, constellation and signe, and the times of rising, southing (crossing the south point of the viewer's horizon, Moon is then at its highest), and setting.

To set up Luna for your locality, select Options|Configure. The default location is Albany, NY. At this time only locations in the continental U.S. are supported. When run under Windows 3.1, True Type fonts can be selected or deselected. Other options can be gleaned from the menus, please note the shortcut keys listed there.
