

Use of Commercial Demos
Jerry Ross, Oak Park, IL, USA

Are commercial software demos like shareware to the extent that they can be copied and uploaded to a BBS? Even if they could be uploaded, would copying a demo from the Nautilus disc violate a Nautilus copyright?

From the Nautilus Team:

It is not a violation of our copyright or free use policy to use commercial demos in this manner. However, we urge you to contact the manufacturer of the demo for their specific usage policies.
