

FLIGHTCHECK® Help

General Help

To obtain general help from FLIGHTCHECK® for either the main window (when a document is open) or the Ground Controls window (if it is frontmost), press command-? (or select General Help... from the Help menu) and a special help cursor will appear. You may then continue to move the help cursor and as it hovers over an item a Help message window for that item will be displayed to explain the item. To abort the Help function, simply click the mouse button.

Clicking the Window Items

You may also simply click on the desired item on the main screen (when a document is open) or the Ground Controls window (if it is frontmost), hold down the mouse button and the Help message window will appear. If you keep the mouse button depressed you may continue moving over any item in order to obtain that item's Help message. To abort the Help function, simply release the mouse button.

Markzware Home Page

Select this item to launch a Browser so you can visit's Markzware's official home page on the World Wide Web. If you wish to change browser, or a previous browser location could not be "remembered", press the control key while selecting this menu item and you will then be asked to locate a browser.