General Information

Welcome to instructional teaching in the 90's!. The Look and Listen Series is an "easy multimedia-oriented" program that combines pictures with sounds into an instructional lesson for your young students. Grab their attention with a talking Lesson!. Turn the sound off, set the delay to 3 or 4, and test your students' knowledge.

When Look and Listen is the active window, try the following keystrokes ...

F1 key

Accesses this Help file.

Esc key

Stops the current Look and Listen program.

Alt key + Spacebar

Opens Control Box Menu.

Operating the Program

- 1) Go to the Look and Listen Program Group, double click on the 'Look and Listen' icon to access the program.
- 2) Point and click on the File menu and select Play... to start the talking show.
- 3) Press Esc key to stop the show.
- 4) Point and click on Sound in the menu line to access the Sound Dialog Box. Point and click on Tone/Volume and Test your adjustments. Select Sound Device if you have an installed sound board for windows. Select Sound Off and test your student.
- 5) Point and click on Loop in the menu line. Point and click on Loop for a continuously repeating show. Adjust the Delay between pictures.

Warning! If you select a continuous Loop and play through the PC internal speaker, you will have to reset your system clock after you stop the show. If you are playing through an installed sound device then your system clock should remain unaffected. Keep this in mind particularly if your system contains applications executed via the system clock (ie: Day/Month/Year calendar organizers/reminders, automatic tape backup systems, application auto-launchers, etc.)

Exiting Look and Listen

You may quit Look and Listen through any of the following commands:

- Select Close from Control Box menu.
- Select Exit from the File Menu.
- Press and hold the Alt key and press F4.
