The Alert Sound Randomizer

"YO!" is an awesome new piece of software that allows you to install virtually hundreds of sounds at once to be played randomly as your system alert sound.   No longer must you be annoyed by the same sound...now you can be annoyed by hundreds...all without taking up valuable system RAM for each sound.

 YO!" consists of a control panel-like console that lists up to 1,000 sounds in your sounds folder.   Through the "YO! Console," you can give each sound its own volume level and randomization priority.   Through the randomization priority feature, you can set your favorite sounds to play more often than the others.

YO! works with not only Macintosh sound files, but .WAV, .AIFF, .AU,   and other popular formats, in addition to allowing you to record your own sounds.   You can preview all sounds right in the console, as well as add sounds to the list through drag and drop.   YO! is the end to the one-alert-sound-Macintosh!

The YO! CD-ROM includes over 1,000 high-quality stereo alert sounds with categories including hi-tech, sci-fi, comical, vocal, musical, sports, nature, and more.   Get hundreds of wicked stereo effects, humorous phrases in numerous character voices, ruthless insults, and more.

You can check out "YO!" right now by visiting the Clixsounds web site at <http://www.clixsounds.com>.   There you can download an unregistered copy to try out.

The shareware version of YO is available from Clixsounds for $20, or on CD-ROM with over 1,000 alert sounds for $29.95   It is also available as part of any of our bundle packages at a discounted price.   (See the page on product bundles.)
