

You can view documents published to Corel Barista using your Web browser. Drawings saved in Corel's Java-based Barista format are saved as vector graphics.

When you export to Corel Barista, text in your drawings is converted to curves to maintain the properties you assigned to it. Bitmaps you import to Corel Barista are exported as bitmaps at the resolution you imported them.

This Tutor shows you how to publish your illustration to Corel Barista.