

When you blend two objects, you create a series of objects along any path between them. This series of objects shows a progression of shape and color between the two original objects.

In this Tutor, you'll learn how to blend objects using the Interactive Blend tool, then how to change the objects' appearance using the blend controls on the Property Bar.