The Blend Color Acceleration slider lets you change the rate at which the blend's colors move through the spectrum. If you move the slider right, colors move faster through the color spectrum as they approach the end object. If you move the slider left, you create the opposite effect.

1. Make sure the blend is selected.

2. On the Property Bar, move the Blend Color Acceleration slider to the right.

3. Move the slider to the left, and compare the effect with that of step 2.
