The first step in calibrating your system is to open Corel Color Manager. While the Color Manager works with your Corel software, it is a separate application which offers you a range of color-management and calibration features.

Click here to open Corel Color Manager.