

Before you extrude an object, you need a basic object to start with. To help make things easier (and to help speed up this process), we've created a series of objects so that you can see how extruding affects different types of objects.

Click here to add these objects to the Drawing Window.