Before you start adjusting the page settings, you need to make sure you can see the controls you'll be using. The first step is to ensure that the Property Bar is showing.

1. Right-click any toolbar to display a pop-up menu, then enable the Property Bar command. If the command is already enabled, it will have a check mark beside it.