A fountain transparency, also known as a gradient transparency or a ramp transparency, is a progression of colors following a linear, radial, conical, or square path.

Before you apply a fountain fill, you must first create an object.

Click here to add an object automatically.