

When you start CorelDRAW, the large white portion of the screen is the Drawing Window.

Show Me

The rectangle with the drop shadow in the center of the Drawing Window represents the Drawing Page. Only the part of your drawing that falls within this shadowed area is printed. Any part of your drawing that overlaps the border shown will appear cut off when printed.

Show Me