

MUSIC

POPULAR PEOPLE AND BANDS:

Bob Geldorf is the connection between the Boomtown Rats and Band Aid. He is an Irish rock singer who co-founded the charity Band Aid in 1984. He was born Robert Fredrick Zenon Geldof in Dun Laoghaire, near Dublin. In 1982 Geldof acted the leading role in the film Pink Floyd-The Wall. He received an honorary knighthood from Queen Elizabeth II in 1987. His autobiography is called Is That It? which was published in 1986.

The best-selling British female group of the 1980's was Bananarama.

Cat Stevens was the singer who converted to Islam.