Crystal Ball
by Bruce Selzler
"Mysteries from beyond the dominion!" These are the words that launch this program, reminiscent of the old-fashioned eight-ball fortune tellers! This computerized version is even better! Ask a question, and it responds "Definitely," "The cat says so," "Why not?" and numerous other predictions. You can even add your own cryptic answers! Crystal Ball predicts this entertaining novelty will be a winner — "Definitely!"

CyberNation v1.1.1
by Roy Dictus
In CyberNation, a futuristic cyborg factory, a lone cyborg tries to escape his fate! You are Arnie the Cyborg, fleeing for your life. Humans have discovered that in order to save themselves from a brutal future, they must destroy CyberNation. The cybernetic beings that inhabit CyberNation are sworn to protect the factory. They are programmed to see you as a threat. Your only hope is to find each level's Teledish and escape to the next level. They will do anything in their power to stop you. Anything.

Infotron v1.0 (Part 1 of 2)
by Q Software
Only the patient and the strong-of-heart will prevail in this excellent version of Boulderdash. Guide your character through the game field and collect Infotrons scattered across the maze. This sounds simple, but each Infotron is precariously placed amid boulders. Be careful! If they fall, you could be crushed! Excellent sound and graphics make this a must have!
Requirements: 640 x 480 x 256 monitor, 2MB free RAM, and 25MHz '030 or better.

MacSki v1.5
by Storm Impact, Inc.
Hit the slopes with this fantastic ski game! Great animations, cool sounds! This is downhill skiing at its finest. Shoot down the various runs, each with its own obstacle course. Trees, rocks, fences, sign posts, even photographers must be avoided. Not challenging enough? Use the click-and-drag editor to create your own course.
Customize conditions by adjusting the weather and changing skis.

Medieval Empires v3.1
All the grandeur, all the glory, all the historical details of Medieval empires! Relive famous moments in history in this spectacular simulation. You are part of the rise and fall of great kingdoms and empires throughout Europe, North Africa and the Middle East.
The year is 1100. Choose from eight characters — up to five can be human. Become a medieval monarch, becoming anyone from Henry V of the Holy Roman Empire to Kilij, the Emirate of Rum! Can you successfully lead their dynasties and dominate Europe?
The historical options are endless. There are five scenarios representing different eras and the campaign scenario lets players lead their kingdoms through a seven hundred year period.

Mombasa v1.5
by Glenn R. Wichman
If you want to win, you'll need to plan ahead! You have a stack of 144 tiles with colorful designs. You must remove all the tiles from the stack in a certain order. Strategy is a must! Create your own tile sets and stack patterns.
